Striker Slain During Clash In Brussels

Saber Blow Fatal As Demonstrators Fight State Police

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — State troopers and strikers clashed in downtown Brussels today in a melee of swinging sabers and flying rocks. One demonstrator was killed, the first fatality in the 11-day nationwide strike.

The striker was killed by a saber blow, Socialist leaders of the strike said. But a Ministry of Interior spokesman said a civilian fired on the demonstrators and "a man was killed." Police said at least 12 persons from both sides were injured.

The death on this most violent day of the walkout came in fighting that broke out when strikers stoned the Brussels headquarters of Belgium's Sabena Airlines.

Violence erupted at the big northern port of Antwerp and at several cities in the industrial south, where the strike against Premier Gustav Eyskens' economy program has been most effective.

In Antwerp, strikers wrecked a post office truck and beat up two postal workers who refused to join the strike.

About 4,000 strikers clashed with police in the southwest industrial city of Mons and there were other outbreaks of violence in and around Charleroi.

King Baudouin, who cut short his honeymoon to deal with the crisis, met with the presidents of the Senate and House of Representatives. He had conferred with Eyskens Thursday night.

The king also asked the leaders of Belgium's three largest political parties to come to see him. They are: Theo Lefevre, Social Christian president; Roger Motz, Liberal Conservative chief; and Leo Collard, Socialist president.

Collard was reported to be in Charleroi to address a mass meeting of strikers.

Eyskens held his regular Cabinet meeting while the disorders were taking place.

A communique said the Cabinet had examined the situation throughout the nation and approved measures so far taken.

The Cabinet reaffirmed the government's position—that the House of Representatives would be allowed to debate the controversial austerity legislation to raise taxes and cut welfare spending to offset losses of Congo revenue.

After the meeting the premier told reporters: "The most important thing is to pass the legislation and give the country the new laws it needs."

The demonstrators in Brussels stalked the streets shouting "We'll march on Parliament Tuesday" and "To the gallows with Esykens." Parliament reconvenes Tuesday to consider the austerity program.

The Socialists contend that the burden of the new austerity program will fall heaviest on the workers.

The economic battle spawned a new outbreak of the conflicts between the Catholics and Socialists, and between the French-speaking Walloon south and Flemish north, that often have divided Belgium.

The day's first violence came in the Charleroi region, a Socialist stronghold in the south. Cobblestones were torn from the streets and thrown in Couillet, Marcinelle, Gilly, Marchienne-au-Pont and Jumet.

Ex-Convict Sentenced For Threatening Ike

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A man of 58 who said he likes prison drew three years from a federal judge for writing postcards threatening to kill President Eisenhower.

Laurence G. Thompson told officers he only writes such threats when he is drunk and can only stay sober when he is behind bars.

His criminal record shows about 30 convictions—three of them for threatening the President. His time served totals nearly 40 years.

Man Charged With Stealing 'Secret Data'

Former Employe Of Defense Department Taken Into Custody

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) —A former Defense Department employe has been charged with stealing secret documents.

Arthur Rogers Roddey, 38, of Falls Church, Va., told newsmen he took the papers "to take them to the National Security Council." He said after his arrest Thursday, "I felt I was right and I still feel that way."

The council, headed by President Eisenhower and including Cabinet officials among its members, deals with over-all defense planning. Roddey was senior operations research adviser for the weapons system evaluation group of the Institute of Defense Analysis.

A newsman asked Roddey at his arraignment if he felt the documents contained information he thought the council should have but that it had not been given.

"I don't know what they knew, but I knew what I knew and wanted them to know it," he replied. He conceded he did not take the documents to the council.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said the case does not involve espionage.

In Richmond, Va., however, U. S. Dist. Atty. Joseph S. Bambacus, who authorized filing of the charges, commented, "I plan to reconvene the federal grand jury in Alexandria (Va.) within the next 10 days and I will ask the grand jury to indict Roddey on espionage charges."

He said some of the documents are "so highly classified that their mere existence, let alone their contents, are top secret."

Road Mishaps Cause Injury To 3 Persons

City Woman Hurt Slightly In Crash As Car Skids Into Truck

A city woman, injured slightly in a car-truck crash in California Hollow, was among three hurt in four district highway mishaps Thursday, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Mrs. Lambrose Fellouzis, 121 W. 4th St., suffered a slight cut of the head when a car driven by her husband skidded into an approaching pickup truck on Route 30 about a mile and a half north of the city yesterday at 2:10 p.m.

Officers said Fellouzis, 29, was headed south, downhill in the three-lane section of the road when his car slid into the path of the truck in the uphill passing lane, driven by Gary E. Malone, 20, of 1724 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville.

The patrol said Fellouzis' 1951 sedan received extensive damage while the truck received moderate damage.

Fined $25 and costs for reckless operation this morning by acting Municipal Court Judge Robert Kapp, Fellouzis said the mishap occurred when he saw a pile of slush in the road ahead and applied the brakes. The auto then skidded into the truck.

Judy Davner, 17, of Leetonia R. D. 1 was treated by a Lisbon physician for facial cuts and possible concussion after the car in which she was a passanger struck a utility pole on Route 164 north of Lisbon yesterday at 4 p.m.

If Large Ape Survives Jolt

First U.S. Manned Rocket Ride Set For Early Spring

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first American manned rocket ride is set for early spring if a large ape survives the jolt of a blast-off from Cape Canaveral early in 1961.

The House Committee on Science and Astronautics made this prediction in a man-in-space report today.

Despite setbacks in recent tests, Chairman Overton Brooks, D-La., pictured the United States standing "on the threshold of a major flight test program of short and long range ballistic flights, leading first to unmanned, and later on to manned orbital flight late in 1961, if all goes well."

The report, based on information supplied by the Defense Department and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, (NASA) set next March or April as the date for the first manned rocket ride. One of the Mercury Astronauts will be strapped in a capsule and shot well over 100 miles up by an Army Redstone missile.

This first space ride will last a matter of minutes. Ships will be ready to fish the capsule from the Atlantic Ocean.

An earlier trial, using the same kind of rocket and capsule, will have a chimpanzee as passenger.

If all goes well with the first manned space probes, the payoff will come next fall, when the first attempt will be made to put a man into a satellite in space, and keep him there long enough to complete several orbits of the earth.

World-Wide Ambassador Seen Likely

Reports Point To Harriman As Choice By President-Elect

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy says he is seriously considering appointment of a world-roving ambassador to represent him in talks with high foreign officials, including government chiefs.

And there are reports Kennedy's choice for such an assignment would be W. Avereli Harriman, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and former governor of New York.

Harriman, who conferred with Kennedy here this week, refused to confirm or deny it and Kennedy headquarters had no comment.

The president-elect's disclosure that he is thinking about naming a roving envoy came at a news conference Thursday night at the Kennedy home on the Atlantic shore.

He also underscored again that he looks with little favor on a president of the United States doing a great deal of travel abroad, but by no means ruled out the possibility of his making some trips out of the country as chief executive.

Kennedy indicated, without mentioning any names, that he may pick an ambassador at large next week.

Kennedy and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, met newsmen together after Kennedy had announced that James M. Landis will serve as his special assistant to help plan broadscale reform of federal regulatory agencies.

Landis, former dean of the Harvard Law School, has served as member or chairman of some of the government agencies he sharply criticized in a study made for Kennedy.

Landis, 61, will be on the job, a statement said, only "for the amount of time needed for the preparation of a program and the submission of final recommendations for presidential action and legislation."

The regulatory agencies include the Civil Aeronautics Board, Federal Power Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission and National Labor Relations Board.

Kennedy's only announced business engagement today is with Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late president and a former member of the U. S. House of Representatives. There has been speculation Roosevelt may be named assistant secretary of the Navy, a post his father once held.

There were these other developments at the news conference:

1. Kennedy and Fulbright advocated putting a good part, or perhaps all, of foreign economic aid on a long-term commitment basis —a five-year congressional authorization for borrowing from the Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, former Columbiana County commissioner who will assume office Tuesday as county recorder, announced he will make but one change in his office personnel.

A Republican, Brian defeated John Graham of Wellsville for the office in November. Graham works in the county auditor's tax map department.

With the Courthouse closing Saturday through Monday for New Year's, today is the last as recorder for Mrs. Frances W. Morton of Wellsville, who has held the post since February 1947.

Mrs. Morton, whose career in the Courthouse began in January 1931 as a clerk for Recorder Edith Elliott of Lisbon, became recorder following the death of John Irwin of East Palestine, for whom she served as chief deputy.

Her mail has been heavier than usual lately with farewell cards and messages from financial institutions, business places and individuals.

Mother And 6 Children Flee $6,000 Blaze

Short Blamed In Fire In Second Story Of Dwelling At Chester

A Chester mother and 6 children were forced to flee their Louisiana Ave. home Thursday night when a blaze burned out the second story of the structure, causing some $6,000 damage and injuring a retired fireman.

A short circuit was blamed for the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed, 335 Louisiana Ave., according to Fire Chief William Glover and other firemen who battled the flames in subfreezing temperatures.

Mrs. Reed noticed smoke in the upstairs and hurriedly took her six youngsters to a neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, of Indiana Ave., just across the alley.

Jack Smith, 19, a West Virginia University student visiting his parents, accompanied Mrs. Reed back to the home, found the smoke worse, then notified firemen by phone from the Smith home.

Fourteen firemen responded to the first alarm at 6:50, remaining at the scene for 2 hours. They were recalled at 10:16 p.m. when flames broke out again in the floor of the second story. Teams of firemen stood by the remainder of the night.

Chief Glover said a short appar-

Weather's Moderating But More Snow Is Due

Temperatures are warming up to a comfortable range but with the usual result—more snow due.

The Ohio weatherman said there will be occasional light snow Saturday, assuring a "White New Year's" for those who like such atmosphere for their celebrations.

Motorists would prefer it otherwise, especially with most of Wednesday's surprise 3-inch fall still on the ground. Only flurries had been forecast for that storm.

The mercury may rise to a high of 31 to 36 this afternoon and tonight's low will be 23 to 28. Downtown East Liverpool's overnight low this morning was 28.

Mother Held As Fire Kills Five Children

Police Investigate 'Careless Smoking' In Cleveland Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police early today arrested Mrs. Arotha Hawkins, whose five sleeping children died in an apartment house fire on the East Side Thursday night. She was being held for investigation.

She told detectives she awoke before the fire to smoke a cigarette and couldn't remember if she put it out. Also, fire investigators reported, the cause of a minor fire in the apartment three weeks ago was blamed on careless smoking by the mother.

Bernard Mulcahy, Fourth Battalion fire chief who led the futile attempt to save the children's lives, complained that parked cars on a narrow street slowed down firemen attempting to reach the scene.

Seek $7.5 Million Damages

12 Will Sue Major Movie Studios To Ban Blacklist

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dozen movie writers and actors, three of them Academy Award winners, are suing major studios for $7.5 million in damages and demanding abolition of an alleged political blacklist in Hollywood.

Four of the plaintiffs were members of the famed "unfriendly 10," who were convicted of contempt of Congress and sent to jail in 1947 after refusing to say whether they had ever been Communists.

The suit, directed against eight studios, was to be filed today in U.S. District Court at Washington, D.C.

The plaintiffs, who contend they were deprived of work in Hollywood because they were on the alleged blacklist, are writers Nedrick Young, Albert Maltz, John Howard Lawson, Herbert Biberman, Lester Cole, Robert L. Richards, Frederick I. Rinaldo and Philip Stevenson, and performers Gale Sondergaard, Alvin Hammer, Mary Virginia Farmer and Shimen Ruskin.

Annual $200,000 Revenue Figured In Half-cent Rate

City Council Thursday night enacted an East Liverpool municipal income tax for the fourth time in three years, declaring it was the only alternative to a reduction of revenue that would have forced the layoff of 34 employes and other cutbacks in service.

Estimated to produce approximately $200,000 annually, the tax of one-half of one per cent will be in effect for four years—through Dec. 31, 1964, the legislation provides.

As it includes an emergency clause, the ordinance will go into effect immediately after it is signed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. The mayor has not indicated whether he will approve or veto the ordinance, but Council has more than enough votes to override his disapproval.

At the earliest, the mayor could return the disapproved ordinance to Council at its first 1961 meeting next Wednesday night. Council then would have until Jan. 14 to sustain or override his veto.

The unexpected tax ordinance was approved unanimously in a special yearend meeting. Only three persons were in the audience when the meeting convened, but five others drifted in later, many of them Democratic party officials or city employes.

Every member of Council came out flatly in favor of the new tax in remarks made before the final vote was taken. They were joined by President Charles N. Edwards, who has no vote, but who asserted that he "stands 100 per cent behind" the action.

The tax of one-half of one per cent means 50 cents on every $100 of earnings and other income, fees of professional men and profits of business and industry.

The first time an income tax was collected here—in 1958—the rate was eight-tenths of one per cent, which meant 80 cents on each $100. The second proposal for five-tenths and the third—which was put to a vote by a Citizens Committee last year called for a rate of eight-tenths. Each of the other tax ordinances was defeated at the polls.

The ordinance approved last night virtually is an exact copy of the three previous ordinances. As did the former legislation, it provides that the tax will be imposed on residents and non-residents alike if they derive their income in East Liverpool.

It also provides for exemption of such items as pensions, unemployment compensation, cash relief, disability payments and alimony.

It requires East Liverpool employers to withhold the tax from their worker's pay and make quarterly returns to the city. Persons not subject to withholding are required to file advance "estimates of income", as under the federal income tax law, and follow through with quarterly payments.

The ordinance provides that not more than 40 per cent of the new revenue will be used for general operating expenses of the city in 1961. In the last three years, not more than 25 per cent may be used for operating expenses, it provides.

The balance of the new revenue will be set aside for capital improvements, including street projects, the legislation provides.

Presence of the emergency clause means the city may expect to collect the tax at least until November 1961, even though a vote of the people is sought to ratify or reject the measure. No referendum can be sought on legislation containing an emergency clause.

Filing of a referendum automatically holds up effectiveness of the questioned ordinance. If a vote is sought, it would have to be in the form of a new ordinance initiated to repeal the tax legislation. But under initiative procedure, the tax would be collected pending the test at the polls.

In three consecutive general elections — 1958, 1959 and 1960—

Councilmen See New Tax 'Last Resort'

Finance Committee Urged Levy; 2 Term It 'Political Suicide'

Finance committee members took the lead in urging Council to enact new income tax legislation Thursday night to help overcome a reduction of at least $50,000 in the revenue the city expects for 1961.

But every member of Council and the presiding officer spoke in favor of the measure before the final vote was taken, some briefly and some at length.

At least two conceded that they feel the action may be tantamount to political suicide, taking into account the public's reaction toward the tax in the past, but they said they felt they should place the city's welfare above their own.

Because 1960 revenue did not come up to anticipated totals, some departments of the city already are operating in the red, Councilman John Melvin, finance committee chairman, asserted. The city will begin 1961 with no reserves in its general fund or its street department fund.

Based on anticipated income for next year, if the city continued to provide the same services it would have finished 1961 with a deficit of $50,000, Melvin commented.

The only alternative would have been to lay off enough police, firemen, street department employes and other workers and cut back other services to the point where the city's outlay would have been reduced to meet its income, Melvin said.

The layoff of firemen would have mean closing outlying fire stations and discontinuance of such essential street department services as spreading ashes and salt on slippery pavements, he said.

"To raise more money means only one thing — income tax," Melvin said. "I had hoped that this unpopular step could be avoided, but I know now that it cannot."

"We were elected by the people — the same voters who have rejected the income tax three times," Melvin said. "But these same people expect us as their representatives in government to inform the public as to what is

Striker Slain During Clash In Brussels

Saber Blow Fatal As Demonstrators Fight State Police

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — State troopers and strikers clashed in downtown Brussels today in a melee of swinging sabers and flying rocks. One demonstrator was killed, the first fatality in the 11-day nationwide strike.

The striker was killed by a saber blow, Socialist leaders of the strike said. But a Ministry of Interior spokesman said a civilian fired on the demonstrators and "a man was killed." Police said at least 12 persons from both sides were injured.

Short Blamed In Fire In Second Story Of Dwelling At Chester

A Chester mother and 6 children were forced to flee their Louisiana Ave. home Thursday night when a blaze burned out the second story of the structure, causing some $6,000 damage and injuring a retired fireman.

A short circuit was blamed for the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed, 335 Louisiana Ave., according to Fire Chief William Glover and other firemen who battled the flames in subfreezing temperatures.

Mrs. Reed noticed smoke in the upstairs and hurriedly took her six youngsters to a neighbor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, of Indiana Ave., just across the alley.

Jack Smith, 19, a West Virginia University student visiting his parents, accompanied Mrs. Reed back to the home, found the smoke worse, then notified firemen by phone from the Smith home.

Fourteen firemen responded to the first alarm at 6:50, remaining at the scene for 2 hours. They were recalled at 10:16 p.m. when flames broke out again in the floor of the second story. Teams of firemen stood by the remainder of the night.

Chief Glover said a short appar-

Weather's Moderating But More Snow Is Due

Temperatures are warming up to a comfortable range but with the usual result—more snow due.

The Ohio weatherman said there will be occasional light snow Saturday, assuring a "White New Year's" for those who like such atmosphere for their celebrations.

Motorists would prefer it otherwise, especially with most of Wednesday's surprise 3-inch fall still on the ground. Only flurries had been forecast for that storm.

The mercury may rise to a high of 31 to 36 this afternoon and tonight's low will be 23 to 28. Downtown East Liverpool's overnight low this morning was 28.

Mother Held As Fire Kills Five Children

Police Investigate 'Careless Smoking' In Cleveland Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police early today arrested Mrs. Aretha Hawkins, whose five sleeping children died in an apartment house fire on the East Side Thursday night. She was being held for investigation.

She told detectives she awoke before the fire to smoke a cigarette and couldn't remember if she put it out. Also, fire investigators reported, the cause of a minor fire in the apartment three weeks ago was blamed on careless smoking by the mother.

Bernard Mulcahy, Fourth Battalion fire chief who led the futile attempt to save the children's lives, complained that parked cars on a narrow street slowed down firemen attempting to reach the scene.

"It cost us about six minutes to get the trucks up that one-way street with cars parked on both

Annual $200,000 Revenue Figured In Half-cent Rate

City Council Thursday night enacted an East Liverpool municipal income tax for the fourth time in three years, declaring it was the only alternative to a reduction of revenue that would have forced the layoff of 34 employes and other cutbacks in service.

Estimated to produce approximately $200,000 annually, the tax of one-half of one per cent will be in effect for four years—through Dec. 31, 1964, the legislation provides.

As it includes an emergency clause, the ordinance will go into effect immediately after it is signed by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet. The mayor has not indicated whether he will approve or veto the ordinance, but Council has more than enough votes to override his disapproval.

At the earliest, the mayor could return the disapproved ordinance to Council at its first 1961 meeting next Wednesday night. Council then would have until Jan. 14 to sustain or override his veto.

The unexpected tax ordinance was approved unanimously in a special yearend meeting. Only three persons were in the audience when the meeting convened, but five others drifted in later, many of them Democratic party officials or city employes.

Every member of Council came out flatly in favor of the new tax in remarks made before the final vote was taken. They were joined by President Charles N. Edwards, who has no vote, but who asserted that he "stands 100 per cent behind" the action.

The tax of one-half of one per cent means 50 cents on every $100 of earnings and other income, fees of professional men and profits of business and industry.

The first time an income tax was collected here—in 1958—the rate was eight-tenths of one per cent, which meant 80 cents on each $100. The second proposal for five-tenths and the third—which was put to a vote by a Citizens Committee last year called for a rate of eight-tenths. Each of the other tax ordinances was defeated at the polls.

The ordinance approved last night virtually is an exact copy of the three previous ordinances. As did the former legislation, it provides that the tax will be imposed on residents and non-residents alike if they derive their income in East Liverpool.

It also provides for exemption of such items as pensions, unemployment compensation, cash relief, disability payments and alimony.

It requires East Liverpool employers to withhold the tax from their worker's pay and make quarterly returns to the city. Persons not subject to withholding are required to file advance "estimates of income", as under the federal income tax law, and follow through with quarterly payments.

The ordinance provides that not more than 40 per cent of the new revenue will be used for general operating expenses of the city in 1961. In the last three years, not more than 25 per cent may be used for operating expenses, it provides.

The balance of the new revenue will be set aside for capital improvements, including street projects, the legislation provides.

Presence of the emergency clause means the city may expect to collect the tax at least until November 1961, even though a vote of the people is sought to ratify or reject the measure. No referendum can be sought on legislation containing an emergency clause.

Filing of a referendum automatically holds up effectiveness of the questioned ordinance. If a vote is sought, it would have to be in the form of a new ordinance initiated to repeal the tax legislation. But under initiative procedure, the tax would be collected pending the test at the polls.

In three consecutive general elections — 1958, 1959 and 1960—

Councilmen See New Tax 'Last Resort'

Finance Committee Urged Levy; 2 Term It 'Political Suicide'

Finance committee members took the lead in urging Council to enact new income tax legislation Thursday night to help overcome a reduction of at least $50,000 in the revenue the city expects for 1961.

But every member of Council and the presiding officer spoke in favor of the measure before the final vote was taken, some briefly and some at length.

At least two conceded that they feel the action may be tantamount to political suicide, taking into account the public's reaction toward the tax in the past, but they said they felt they should place the city's welfare above their own.

Because 1960 revenue did not come up to anticipated totals, some departments of the city already are operating in the red, Councilman John Melvin, finance committee chairman, asserted. The city will begin 1961 with no reserves in its general fund or its street department fund.

Based on anticipated income for next year, if the city continued to provide the same services it would have finished 1961 with a deficit of $50,000, Melvin commented.

The only alternative would have been to lay off enough police, firemen, street department employes and other workers and cut back other services to the point where the city's outlay would have been reduced to meet its income, Melvin said.

The layoff of firemen would have mean closing outlying fire stations and discontinuance of such essential street department services as spreading ashes and salt on slippery pavements, he said.

"To raise more money means only one thing — income tax," Melvin said. "I had hoped that this unpopular step could be avoided, but I know now that it cannot."

"We were elected by the people — the same voters who have rejected the income tax three times," Melvin said. "But these same people expect us as their representatives in government to inform the public as to what is

Seek $7.5 Million Damages

12 Will Sue Major Movie Studios To Ban Blacklist

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dozen movie writers and actors, three of them Academy Award winners, are suing major studios for $7.5 million in damages and demanding abolition of an alleged political blacklist in Hollywood.

Four of the plaintiffs were members of the famed "unfriendly 10," who were convicted of contempt of Congress and sent to jail in 1947 after refusing to say whether they had ever been Communists.

The suit, directed against eight studios, was to be filed today in U.S. District Court at Washington, D.C.

The plaintiffs, who contend they were deprived of work in Hollywood because they were on the alleged blacklist, are writers Nedrick Young, Albert Maltz, John Howard Lawson, Herbert Biberman, Lester Cole, Robert L. Richards, Frederick I. Rinaldo and Philip Stevenson, and performers Gale Sondergaard, Alvin Hammer, Mary Virginia Farmer and Shimen Ruskin.

Plane Flight Delayed By Phoned Bomb Hoax

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A United Air Lines flight was delayed for 1½ hours Thursday night after a youth telephoned the airline office and said there was a bomb on a plane that had just arrived from Chicago.

Police and FBI agents searched the plane but found nothing and it left for Toledo, Ohio, shortly before midnight. The flight was No. 630 and had come here from Chicago before heading to Toledo.

The airline office said that the caller was unknown but he was believed to be a teen-age boy. He called about 9:30 p. m. (CST) shortly before the plane arrived from Chicago.

Councilmen See New Tax 'Last Resort'

going on and if we don't take steps to fulfill the needs, then I feel we are not doing our job."

Melvin said he realizes the tax action may be "detrimental" when he runs for renomination in May, but he added: "I feel I'm unimportant as an individual. I feel I have to place the welfare of the city ahead of myself."

"There will be criticism of emergency passage of this ordinance, but an emergency does exist and the money is needed immediately so that we can make our appropriations for the coming year," Melvin continued. "To wait until November 1961 for an answer would be disastrous for the city. The city needs the money now."

Councilman Donald Hancock, another member of the finance committee, asserted one of the principal considerations that prompted him to vote for the ordinance was the fact the city would have been required to lay off about 34 employes.

The layoffs would have affected four or five policemen, he said. Lack of revenue would have meant the city would be unable to replace its four police cruisers though "one is absolutely scrap and the other three can break down at any time."

Lack of funds would have forced lay off of four or five firemen, meaning closing of at least two outlying stations, a reduction in fire protection and a consequent increase in insurance rates, Hancock said.

"Of course we cannot start one such as Weirton, which cost $1 million, but at least we can get started," Hancock asserted. "This way we can keep our teen-agers off the streets and give them something constructive to do. Not forgetting our smaller children, we should operate several playgrounds."

The new revenue also can be used to improve the city's 83 miles of streets, of which 41 miles are paved and 42 miles unpaved, Hancock said. It will allow modernization in street lighting and establishment of more off-street parking lots, he added.

Hancock said he will urge appointment of citizen committees from both political parties and all walks of life to advise Council in programs that should be undertaken with the income tax revenue.

"The finance committee has worked hard and long on this problem and can find no other solution," Hancock commented. "When I was elected councilman I took an oath to operate the city in a lawful manner and to the best of my ability. I cannot be a party to laying off people and curtailing vital operations of this city and feel I am doing my job.

"Now they say we may not be elected again if we put this tax in, but is this important if the city is to decay and go backward until it is a second rate city? I would rather have a decent place for my children to grow up. . ."

Without additional funds the city would be forced to curtail its services to the point the health and welfare of the citizens would be jeopardized, but with the new revenue it will be able to make the improvements "the city needs if it is to survive," Councilman Norman Bucher said.

"In October, I was appointed to an unexpired term and since that time I have found that Council is faced continually with the need for funds," Bucher said. "The equipment is worn out or outmoded. We have been attempting to fix the budget for 1961, but we need additional funds."

"I know the condition of the city finances," Councilman Clifford Cooper commented. "The finance committee has had a particularly rough time in the last three months. If the ordinance is not passed, it will mean a layoff of 35 to 40 employes and the closing of several fire stations."

"I'm opposed to an income tax, but for the health, safety and welfare of the city, I must vote for this measure," Councilman John Kelly said. "In homes and businesses, money is needed for operations or they will fail.

"We also must have money to set up a street paving program," Kelly said. "I'm in favor of purchasing a blacktop plant and surfacing streets at nominal cost to property-owners. We need new equipment to operate the city efficiently. We need the facilities to help our city survive and grow."

"In working with the finance committee, I know the tax is necessary," Councilman Donald Smith commented.

"Without revenue, we would have had to lay off employes and curtail service.

Councilman Robert Laughlin said lack of funds would have forced layoff of school crossing guards.

"That's enough to make me vote 'yes' on this ordinance — protection for our children," he said.

Council President Charles N. Edwards commented that he is "sure Council will administer this extra money to the very best advantage for the city as a whole."

"I've always been of the opinion many things need done for our city," he commented. "I admire the courage shown by Council in regard to this tax, considering the fact it has been turned down three times by the public. I stand back of it 100 per cent."

5 Are Hospitalized In Train Derailment

PUYALLUP, Wash. (AP) — Railroad officials poked through wreckage along 400 feet of torn track today probing an unexplained derailment that spilled the engine and nine cars of a passenger train carrying 500 holiday travelers.

Two passengers and three trainmen were hospitalized. Thirteen other persons were treated and released.

The others went on south in a special train sent from Seattle.

New Income Tax Approved

East Liverpool voters rejected income tax measures. The most resounding defeat was in the election last fall, when the margin against the tax was 2,491.

Two of the tax proposals defeated previously were enacted by Council. The third was placed on the ballot by a Citizens' Committee which began circulating petitions last July.

The 1958 vote came about in an initiative ordinance which Trades and Labor Council placed on the ballot to repeal a tax of eight-tenths of one per cent provided for in an ordinance enacted by Council to take effect May 1, 1958.

The first tax actually was collected for a period of about six months—from its effective date until mid-November, when its defeat officially was certified by the County Election Board. Despite its comparatively brief life, the tax produced about $160,000 in new revenue for the city.

In the second instance, Trades Council filed for a referendum on another tax ordinance with a rate of five-tenths of one per cent which the same Council enacted in the spring of 1959.

When the 1958 ordinance was approved, Council inserted an emergency clause that precluded the possibility of a referendum. But Trades Council succeeded in winning a test at the polls by a different but similar route— circulating petitions to initiate an ordinance repealing the tax legislation enacted by Council.

Council enacted the second ordinance without an emergency clause—and providing for a lower rate—to meet the two principal objections raised by the opponents in the first campaign. The procedure allowed a referendum, which meant that the tax would not be collected pending the test at the polls.

Of the 1958 tax, the opponents argued that the emergency clause meant it was "shoved down the public's throat." They also charged that the rate of eight-tenths of one per cent would produce more new revenue than the city actually required.

With those two arguments in mind, Council reduced the rate and left out the emergency clause when enacting the second ordinance. But the attempt to mollify the opposition did not pay off at the polls. The public turned down the ordinance the second time.

In last November's election, 5,724 voted against the tax and 3,233 voted in favor. The measured failed by 1,900 votes in 1958 and by 1,224 in 1959.

The municipal income tax first was proposed by former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence shortly after he took office in early 1958. After an exhaustive study of the city's finances, he recommended the tax to Council as the only solution to the city's financial dilemma.

The 1958-59 Council and the then mayor worked jointly to frame the second tax proposal. The second ordinance never produced a cent for the city treasury. Trades Council filed almost immediately for a referendum, which meant that effectiveness of the ordinance was held up pending the test at the polls.

When voters rejected the second ordinance in the general election of 1959, it was thrown out the window without ever having been in effect.

At the same election which the tax was defeated for the second time, the voters made a virtual clean sweep of City Hall offices, apparently a reaction against the tax.

All seven Republican councilmen were defeated, along with the GOP mayor and auditor. They were replaced with Democrats, comprising the present administration and council.

Teacher Guilty Of Trespassing In Nuclear Test Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Earle L. Reynolds, 49, a former teacher at Ohio's Antioch College, was guilty only of trespassing when he sailed into the Eniwetok nuclear testing area in July, 1958.

That was the opinion Thursday by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court reversed Reynolds' 1959 conviction for invasion of the 390,000 square mile Pacific test area in defiance of an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) regulation.

Reynolds, of Yellow Springs, Ohio, sailed his yacht Phoenix into the prohibited area after notifying the Coast Guard that he planned to do so as a protest against testing of nuclear weapons.

He was sentenced to two years in prison and placed on probation for 18 months of the term after being convicted by the Honolulu Federal District Court on Aug. 28, 1959.

The appeals court in San Francisco said the government had obtained its conviction under a regulation not authorized in the act which created AEC.

Paolisso Gets 'Invitation' To Quit His Post

Atty. Ralph Pryor of Wellsburg, judge-elect of the 1st Judicial Circuit, who takes office Jan. 1, has written to two Hancock County officials — offering one the opportunity to resign and telling the other he will be replaced.

In a move which some county sources termed "surprising," Judge-elect Pryor thanked County Probation Officer William Paolisso for his services and gave him the opportunity to resign.

Paolisso, widely-known in the Tri-State Area as a basketball official, has served as Hancock County probation officer four years under Judge Harold Brennan.

Judge Brennan was defeated in the November general election after 37 years service in the Northern Panhandle.

It could not be learned immediately if Paolisso will resign or not.

Judge-elect Pryor also expressed appreciation for faithful and diligent service to Circuit Court in a letter to Atty. Thomas McKenzie of New Cumberland, veteran divorce commissioner. Atty. McKenzie will be replaced, the letter said.

Judge Brennan Wednesday said farewell to co-workers and attorneys in Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Judge-Elect Pryor will preside for the first time at the January term of court beginning Jan. 10 and the Grand Jury session.

Blasting Scheduled On Remainder Of Dam

The M. & O. Dredging Co. was scheduled to blast out the remaining 100 feet of a 700-foot long outer lock chamber wall today at Dam 8 at Newell, ending a razing project that began last month.

Harry Springer, lockmaster, said dynamiting of the concrete wall on the West Virginia side of the Ohio River was scheduled about noon.

The Pittsburgh dredging company has only to clean up rubble before moving on to another job.

Utility Sale Blocked

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The sale of the Greenfield municipal electric utility to the Dayton Power & Light Co. has been blocked, at least temporarily. Leon Harvey of Greenfield filed a petition Thursday asking Highland County Common Pleas Court to prevent the sale. Dayton Power & Light had offered $1,125,341 for the plant and its facilities, and Harvey contends the price is inadequate.

going on and if we don't take steps to fulfill the needs, then I feel we are not doing our job."

Melvin said he realizes the tax action may be "detrimental" when he runs for renomination in May, but he added: "I feel I'm unimportant as an individual. I feel I have to place the welfare of the city ahead of myself."

"There will be criticism of emergency passage of this ordinance, but an emergency does exist and the money is needed immediately so that we can make our appropriations for the coming year," Melvin continued. "To wait until November 1961 for an answer would be disastrous for the city. The city needs the money now."

Councilman Donald Hancock, another member of the finance committee, asserted one of the principal considerations that prompted him to vote for the ordinance was the fact the city would have been required to lay off about 34 employes.

The layoffs would have affected four or five policemen, he said. Lack of revenue would have meant the city would be unable to replace its four police cruisers although "one is absolutely scrap and the other three can break down at any time."

Lack of funds would have forced lay off of four or five firemen, meaning closing of at least two outlying stations, a reduction in fire protection and a consequent increase in insurance rates, Hancock said.

"Of course we cannot start one such as Weirton, which cost $1 million, but at least we can get started," Hancock asserted. "This way we can keep our teen-agers off the streets and give them something constructive to do. Not forgetting our smaller children, we should operate several playgrounds."

The new revenue also can be used to improve the city's 83 miles of streets, of which 41 miles are paved and 42 miles unpaved, Hancock said. It will allow modernization in street lighting and establishment of more off-street parking lots, he added.

Hancock said he will urge appointment of citizen committees from both political parties and all walks of life to advise Council in programs that should be undertaken with the income tax revenue.

"The finance committee has worked hard and long on this problem and can find no other solution," Hancock commented. "When I was elected councilman I took an oath to operate the city in a lawful manner and to the best of my ability. I cannot be a party to laying off people and curtailing vital operations of this city and feel I am doing my job.

"Now they say we may not be elected again if we put this tax in, but is this important if the city is to decay and go backward until it is a second rate city? I would rather have a decent place for my children to grow up. . ."

Without additional funds the city would be forced to curtail its services to the point the health and welfare of the citizens would be jeopardized, but with the new revenue it will be able to make the improvements "the city needs if it is to survive," Councilman Norman Bucher said.

"In October, I was appointed to an unexpired term and since that time I have found that Council is faced continually with the need for funds," Bucher said. "The equipment is worn out or outmoded. We have been attempting to fix the budget for 1961, but we need additional funds."

"I know the condition of the city finances," Councilman Clifford Cooper commented. "The finance committee has had a particularly rough time in the last three months. If the ordinance is not passed, it will mean a layoff of 35 to 40 employes and the closing of several fire stations."

"I'm opposed to an income tax, but for the health, safety and welfare of the city, I must vote for this measure," Councilman John Kelly said. "In homes and businesses, money is needed for operations or they will fail.

"We also must have money to set up a street paving program," Kelly said. "I'm in favor of purchasing a blacktop plant and surfacing streets at nominal cost to property-owners. We need new equipment to operate the city efficiently. We need the facilities to help our city survive and grow."

"In working with the finance committee, I know the tax is necessary," Councilman Donald Smith commented.

"Without revenue, we would have had to lay off employes and curtail service.

Councilman Robert Laughlin said lack of funds would have forced layoff of school crossing guards.

"That's enough to make me vote 'yes' on this ordinance — protection for our children," he said.

Council President Charles N. Edwards commented that he is "sure Council will administer this extra money to the very best advantage for the city as a whole."

"I've always been of the opinion many things need done for our city," he commented. "I admire the courage shown by Council in regard to this tax, considering the fact it has been turned down three times by the public. I stand back of it 100 per cent."

5 Are Hospitalized In Train Derailment

PUYALLUP, Wash. (AP) — Railroad officials poked through wreckage along 400 feet of torn track today probing an unexplained derailment that spilled the engine and nine cars of a passenger train carrying 500 holiday travelers.

Two passengers and three trainmen were hospitalized. Thirteen other persons were treated and released.

The others went on south in a special train sent from Seattle.

East Liverpool voters rejected income tax measures. The most resounding defeat was in the election last fall, when the margin against the tax was 2,491.

Two of the tax proposals defeated previously were enacted by Council. The third was placed on the ballot by a Citizens' Committee which began circulating petitions last July.

The 1958 vote came about in an initiative ordinance which Trades and Labor Council placed on the ballot to repeal a tax of eight-tenths of one per cent provided for in an ordinance enacted by Council to take effect May 1, 1958.

The first tax actually was collected for a period of about six months—from its effective date until mid-November, when its defeat officially was certified by the County Election Board. Despite its comparatively brief life, the tax produced about $160,000 in new revenue for the city.

In the second instance, Trades Council filed for a referendum on another tax ordinance with a rate of five-tenths of one per cent which the same Council enacted in the spring of 1959.

When the 1958 ordinance was approved, Council inserted an emergency clause that precluded the possibility of a referendum. But Trades Council succeeded in winning a test at the polls by a different but similar route— circulating petitions to initiate an ordinance repealing the tax legislation enacted by Council.

Council enacted the second ordinance without an emergency clause—and providing for a lower rate—to meet the two principal objections raised by the opponents in the first campaign. The procedure allowed a referendum, which meant that the tax would not be collected pending the test at the polls.

Of the 1958 tax, the opponents argued that the emergency clause meant it was "shoved down the public's throat." They also charged that the rate of eight-tenths of one per cent would produce more new revenue than the city actually required.

With those two arguments in mind, Council reduced the rate and left out the emergency clause when enacting the second ordinance. But the attempt to mollify the opposition did not pay off at the polls. The public turned down the ordinance the second time.

In last November's election, 5,724 voted against the tax and 3,233 voted in favor. The measured failed by 1,900 votes in 1958 and by 1,224 in 1959.

The municipal income tax first was proposed by former Mayor Fred P. Lawrence shortly after he took office in early 1958. After an exhaustive study of the city's finances, he recommended the tax to Council as the only solution to the city's financial dilemma.

The 1958-59 Council and the then mayor worked jointly to frame the second tax proposal. The second ordinance never produced a cent for the city treasury. Trades Council filed almost immediately for a referendum, which meant that effectiveness of the ordinance was held up pending the test at the polls.

When voters rejected the second ordinance in the general election of 1959, it was thrown out the window without ever having been in effect.

At the same election which the tax was defeated for the second time, the voters made a virtual clean sweep of City Hall offices, apparently a reaction against the tax.

All seven Republican councilmen were defeated, along with the GOP mayor and auditor. They were replaced with Democrats, comprising the present administration and council.

Teacher Guilty Of Trespassing In Nuclear Test Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Earle L. Reynolds, 49, a former teacher at Ohio's Antioch College, was guilty only of trespassing when he sailed into the Eniwetok nuclear testing area in July, 1958.

That was the opinion Thursday by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The court reversed Reynolds' 1959 conviction for invasion of the 390,000 square mile Pacific test area in defiance of an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) regulation.

Reynolds, of Yellow Springs, Ohio, sailed his yacht Phoenix into the prohibited area after notifying the Coast Guard that he planned to do so as a protest against testing of nuclear weapons.

He was sentenced to two years in prison and placed on probation for 18 months of the term after being convicted by the Honolulu Federal District Court on Aug. 28, 1959.

The appeals court in San Francisco said the government had obtained its conviction under a regulation not authorized in the act which created AEC.

Paolisso Gets 'Invitation' To Quit His Post

Atty. Ralph Pryor of Wellsburg, judge-elect of the 1st Judicial Circuit, who takes office Jan. 1, has written to two Hancock County officials — offering one the opportunity to resign and telling the other he will be replaced.

In a move which some county sources termed "surprising," Judge-elect Pryor thanked County Probation Officer William Paolisso for his services and gave him the opportunity to resign.

Paolisso, widely-known in the Tri-State Area as a basketball official, has served as Hancock County probation officer four years under Judge Harold Brennan.

Judge Brennan was defeated in the November general election after 37 years service in the Northern Panhandle.

It could not be learned immediately if Paolisso will resign or not.

Judge-elect Pryor also expressed appreciation for faithful and diligent service to Circuit Court in a letter to Atty. Thomas McKenzie of New Cumberland, veteran divorce commissioner. Atty. McKenzie will be replaced, the letter said.

Judge Brennan Wednesday said farewell to co-workers and attorneys in Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Judge-Elect Pryor will preside for the first time at the January term of court beginning Jan. 10 and the Grand Jury session.

Blasting Scheduled On Remainder Of Dam

The M. & O. Dredging Co. was scheduled to blast out the remaining 100 feet of a 700-foot long outer lock chamber wall today at Dam 8 at Newell, ending a razing project that began last month.

Harry Springer, lockmaster, said dynamiting of the concrete wall on the West Virginia side of the Ohio River was scheduled about noon.

The Pittsburgh dredging company has only to clean up rubble before moving on to another job.

Utility Sale Blocked

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The sale of the Greenfield municipal electric utility to the Dayton Power & Light Co. has been blocked, at least temporarily. Leon Harvey of Greenfield filed a petition Thursday asking Highland County Common Pleas Court to prevent the sale. Dayton Power & Light had offered $1,125,341 for the plant and its facilities, and Harvey contends the price is inadequate.

When It's Time To Fix The Roof

Everybody knows about the fellow who couldn't fix the roof when it was raining and when it wasn't raining the roof didn't leak.

It's interesting to think in a time of economic slack about this fellow's brother, who has some strange notions about getting things done, too.

The brother is in business.

When it's raining, he says he cannot make improvements and repairs. But when the sun comes out, he doesn't make them either, because then he's too busy with his business.

The point is that these things must be done if he is going to stay in business. Not only must the roof be kept in repair but capital improvements must be made.

Things must be shifted around and arranged more conveniently. Trash must be carted away and new things brought in to keep the place in operating condition.

New signs must be put out front. Business contacts must be brushed up and kept shiny when there is time to do the job right.

The time to do all these things is when there is nothing more important to do.

ECONOMISTS are calling attention to a peculiarity of the charts by which they visualize the rate of economic activity — the "saucer-shaped slump."

This is the kind the United States is having now — a "saucer-shaped slump." Instead of sliding down a sharp incline to one of the "new lows" economists hate to talk about, business is coasting down a shallow slope that may "saucer out" by mid-year.

Business is having this privilege because so many Americans have continued to feel confident that they have been fixing the roof, instead of complaining because it was raining, or waiting until the sun came out again, when they would be too busy.

The country learned a memorable lesson in the slump of 1957-1958 when the Eisenhower administration was urged by shrill voices to do something drastic to make things get better instantly. It learned that confidence is the foundation of all business planning and the most confidence - inspiring policy government can follow is not to fly into hysterics when the shrill voices are heard.

THE INCOMING Kennedy administration is showing heartening signs of having the same point of view that made the Eisenhower administration a rallying point for economic confidence.

Its first job will be to reassure the roof-fixers that there is work to be done and now is the time to do it.

Its second job will be to sit on the boom that is almost certain to develop during its first year in power, to keep it from setting off an inflationary explosion.

It can be grateful for the "saucer-shaped slump," the newest thing in the jargon of the economists.

Instead of falling off a cliff, the U.S. economy these days rides up and down a roller coaster.

Confidence makes all the difference.

One, Two, Three-Shift

Dr. Patrick M. S. Blackett, Nobel Prize winner and president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, has turned into one of our favorite people. He has a theory about wandering continents.

Dr. Blackett heads the physics department at Imperial College of Science and Technology in London. He is a scholar of substance. His theory has substance, too. Even those who disagree with it are hard-pressed to dispose of the massive evidence he has assembled that continental masses on the earth's surface are in continuous motion.

This latitude of North America was below the equator 400 million years ago. This is typical of the scale of motion in the last half billion years. India once was near the South Pole. Europe once was largely in the southern hemisphere.

Either these things are true, or the earth's entire crust itself has shifted its position. What has put Dr. Blackett into controversy is his growing conviction that only the continental masses have moved and this explains why coal formed elsewhere is found now in places where it does not belong and why dinosaurs are found embedded in ice.

But that is not why Dr. Blackett has become one of our favorite people. It is because he makes it possible when conversation turns to the weather to say, "My friend Dr. Blackett, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, says it didn't use to be this way. He thinks the continents are moving. Although ours is moving northward at the moment, it might reverse direction and move southward, in which event all of us not already living in the subtropics could be there without moving."

On the other hand, if North America doesn't change direction they may be digging us out of the polar ice in another half billion years. But we never mention that when we talk about our friend Dr. Blackett and his moving continents. Too grisly.

A Good Show

Regardless of who wins or who loses, it's a pleasure to have three visiting basketball teams as our guests during the first invitational high school holiday tournament here.

By their spirited play, the squads from Marietta, Massillon and Midland have added a spice to the season along with the local East Liverpool Potters.

High school athletic officials have lined up an attractive card in their first venture into the type of tournament which is gaining favor throughout the tri-state area. If future conditions justify it, the tourney should become a permanent fixture.

Stranger Things Have Happened

King Badouin and his bride have flown home to Belgium ahead of their honeymoon schedule, to be close to events in Brussels.

It has taken many months for the non-Belgian world to understand that the impact of events in the Congo — the violence, disorder, economic upset and even the bloodshed —was only part of the consequences of the Congo's separation from Belgium.

The other part now is in the news — rioting and disorder in Brussels. There will be political repercussions, in all probability; there usually are. It will be made plainer than it ever has been before that the most incredible development of the mid-10th century was Britain's ability to change from empire to commonwealth, from colonialism to free association of sovereign nations, without bringing ruin on both the British and their one-time possessions.

The Belgians had not prepared either themselves or the Congolese for the shock of separation. They had imagined a post-separation situation in which the Congolese would quickly find a form of government satisfactory for their needs and continue to keep contact with Belgium to satisfy their needs.

It was not forseen that both the Congolese and the Belgians would suffer from the separation because neither was ready to go on without the other. Certainly it would be hard to foresee, now that the damage has been done, any possibility of reconciliation.

But stranger things have happened than that the Congolese might experience a reaction from violence and chaos and re-establish some of the happier circumstances of their existence when Belgium was their patron. It would not be a return to colonialism. It would be a return to an association that was terminated too abruptly for the good of either country—but this time the association would be voluntary.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

This is the story of Arnah, the shepherd who remained to adore, to watch over and to comfort after the others and the magi had departed.

The holy night in the Bethlehem manger had been wondrous when many came to kneel and marvel. But in a few days they had gone. The gift bearers had left. The star had seemed to dim. Arnah alone had lingered, never permitting the glow of the first Christmas to lessen in his heart.

His presence cheered Joseph and Mary. The Babe in the crib smiled on him. Arnah had been truly moved, not for a few hours, a night or a season.

"I could bring no gifts," he said humbly, "I am only a tender of sheep. I have nothing," but Mary said, "You have the greatest gift, lasting adoration, love and dedication. You are not merely a shepherd, Arnah; you are an abiding friend, a man who truly understands."

"Your faith is lasting. You do not forget too soon. You wish to be with us as long as possible," added Joseph.

"Yes. The spell grips me now as it did on the night of the Child's birth," said Arnah.

"That warms us more than all the gifts of the magi and the words of the Wise Men. Look, the Babe is smiling on you again," said Mary.

The shepherd heard a voice whisper, "Many will gather together, come to the crib and proclaim undying adoration. But they will depart swiftly. Some will remain patiently and reverently. A week or two will not suffice them. Through you, oh faithful shepherd, this is known to Joseph, Mary and the Child."

Arnah set about helping around the manger. He felt a surpassing happiness, never to be felt by those who experienced the glow of the Nativity only for Yuletide.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S trophies and papers will be housed in a national museum in Norfolk, Va. It had better be fireproof, since it will presumably hold his opinions on Harry Truman.

Other MacArthur articles in the museum will possibly include:

1. The icebag used on his head whenever he read a Truman statement on Korea.
2. Bottle which held tranquilizers used by the general each time Harry held a walk-around-town interview.

James M. Landis' report blitzing the "alphabet soup" federal boards, known by initials from ABC to XYZ, will get fast attention from new President. He may name a federal CCCC (Cut, Consolidate and Coordinate Commission) and STS (Sock the Snafu) agency.

The largest bicycle in the world rests in the museum at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Mich. Built in 1896, it is 23¾ feet long, weighs 305 pounds, carries ten men, and is still in running condition.

A third of a female mosquito's weight is in her wing muscles. She can vibrate her wings 300 times a second and fly 100 inches a second—which is almost six miles an hour.

Did Somebody Ask, 'What's Cooking?'

Communists Emerge From Their Holes

By Victor Riesel

U.S. Communists, long hidden in a musty underground of their own, have been directed by Soviet international leaders to surge out into the open and activate their national Communist party on a wide political front.

Victor Riesel

There is documentary evidence that U.S. Communists were told not to fear emerging from their obscure and secret cells so they can once more operate in Communist party clubs, sections and districts.

They have, in fact, been told to register, each member "on a single sheet," so that the Communist "center" in each area would have his name, address, age, sex, union membership, skills, affiliations and length of time in the Communist party, U.S.A.

The above order was dispatched on Oct. 25, to all "district chairmen, and district organizational secretaries." The directive was signed by "The National Organization Bureau, Communist Party, U.S.A."

No such message would have been put on paper without the authorization and direction of the Soviet Party's Central Committee—which is made up of men more realistic than Dostoyevsky, more cynical then Nietzsche.

THE SOVIET Central committee's experts on the U.S. would not waste their time on reorganization of the American Communist party if they had not a specific purpose at this specific moment.

They believe, it seems to me, that they can exploit the growing number of jobless—especially in the steel industry.

THIS IS OBVIOUS from the directive, a copy of which is in this columnist's hands:

"The National Organizational Bureau with the approval of the national secretariat of our party," the order says, "decided to conduct a national registration of our organization this year. We believe this is necessary so as to give us information on the membership and its composition.

"This information will be of benefit to the national organization as well as the respective districts. It is proposed that this drive be conducted following the elections.

"In planning this activity we have held recently an enlarged organization commission meeting in New York which included representatives from East Coast districts and the organization secretary from Illinois. Similar considerations are being given by the Mid-West districts. Other districts, among them the West Coast, should plan similar meetings in their respective districts."

The document directs its regional officials "to discuss new recruits as well as individuals who can be won back into our party."

IT IS APPARENT that the strategy is to recreate enough strength to run mass rallies, attack the U.S. government and even elect a sufficient number of minor officials in some cities to make loud pro-Soviet noise.

This would lend substance to the shadowy Soviet propaganda in Asian and African lands, charging that with our gold running out we are falling apart.

The Communist party, U.S.A., is specifically fascinated by the 1961 municipal elections across the U.S. It is not inconceivable that by its "concentration" technique it could elect a city councilman in one community, and perhaps even higher officials in others.

Evidence of this tactic is in a second letter dispatched from Communist party headquarters a month after the registration order. This time it was signed by Phil Bart, national organization secretary.

IT WAS MAILED Nov. 22. In part it said:

Winter Won't Be Dull

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The rest of this winter may be cold but it won't be dull.

The Eisenhower administration is departing in a whisper for, like others before it, it's in that period of marking time until a new administration takes over Jan. 20.

The new one of President-elect John F. Kennedy will start with a bang. It has to. It has that many problems, enough to make the bang last for months.

Just domestic problems would be enough to make Washington boil. Kennedy has more than those.

There's the problem of somehow loosening up the House Rules Committee where Southern Democrats and Republicans have teamed for years to keep liberal legislation from reaching the House for a vote.

Unless this is done, the committee could keep much of Kennedy's program in the graveyard. But if Kennedy backs this, he may antagonize far more Southern Democrats than those on the committee, just when he needs their votes.

In the Senate there's the question of whether to try to gag the Southern Democrats, who might otherwise try to talk civil rights legislation to death, by changing the rules to prevent filibusters.

There'll be a fight over any Kennedy attempt to modernize, clean up or otherwise improve the government's regulatory agencies which affect American living in ways which range from cosmetics and medicine to gas and TV.

It should be a scorcher when Kennedy, as he promised he would tries to get through Congress a medical-care-for-the-aged bill tied to Social Security. The American Medical Association figures to lead the fight against him.

Kennedy will almost certainly come up with ideas for spending more money than President Eisenhower is likely to suggest in his last budget.

Arguments over spending will last until Congress goes home next summer. This is just a taste of the brawls ahead on domestic problems alone. Kennedy's overseas problems are endless.

Besides having to deal with Premier Khrushchev personally—either face to face at the summit or through letters and public statements—Kennedy must cope with the Red Chinese who, as they become stronger, will make more trouble.

How is he going to keep Southeast Asia from falling to communism in an area where Red China is the dominant force? That problem will stick with him through the four years of his presidency, or eight if he wins a second term, unless communism in the meantime takes over.

The shooting in Laos alone, with help from Soviet Russia and the Red Chinese, could embroil this country in another Korea unless Kennedy finds a way to prevail peacefully or wash his hands of Laos altogether.

And disarmament? Neither President Truman nor Eisenhower could come to terms with Russia on this one. So now it's staring at Kennedy, crying for solution. At the moment, none is in sight.

To complicate things for him, France has just had its third atomic test explosion and should soon be able to join the atomic club whose only members now are the United States, Russia and Britain.

The more the members, the worse the problems and the better the chance for war.

It may worry Kennedy to know little Israel is getting into the atomic field, even if its efforts are limited to peaceful reactors. But that's nothing compared with his atomic worries about Red China.

Before Kennedy's present term is up—and probably certainly before he could finish a second one—Red China should be an atomic power. The only comfort he could hope from that would be this:

That by then Red China would be just as troublesome to Russia as it is to the United States. Certainly once it's in possession of that great added power, Red China won't sit still.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Ten thousand Ohio members of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers International union went on a five-day week schedule.

Mrs. S. W. Crawford was installed as president of the Ladies of the Grand Army for her fifth term.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Police Chief Hugh J. McDermott urged legislation banning air rifles in East Liverpool after three boys were held for firing pellets.

The Central Rural School district approved 130 to 10 a 3-mill, two-year operating levy designed to avert threatened classroom closings because of depleted funds.

TEN YEARS AGO — The County Election Board ruled invalid 312 of the 1,772 Columbiana County signatures on petitions filed with the Secretary of State's office at Columbus for a minimum pay law for Ohio teachers.

Girl Scout Troop 27 conducted a check on walking habits in the downtown area and reported that pedestrians paid little attention to traffic signals.

A newly-formed basketball team, the Eastern Ohio All-Stars, defeated the Wellsville ex-highs, 56-50.

Red Menace Unmasked

By David Lawrence

Infiltration Increasing Throughout U. S.

Not only are there more Communist spies in the world today than ever before, according to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, but the infiltration by Communist agitators in this country is increasing.

David Lawrence

Many people have been pooh - poohing the Communist menace and unwittingly helping the cause of Communism in this country. The theory that communism is just a belief, or the doctrine of a political party which happens to differ with other political parties, is being widely accepted—even by the majority of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States —but the truth is that it is a political organization which is financed, directed, assisted and engineered by a foreign government which is hostile to the United States.

The tendency to regard the cold war as of secondary importance and as permitting open tolerance of a Communist party is one of the biggest factors in the present situation. A cold war is hardly different from a hot war in requiring 100 per cent alertness against the enemy.

LATELY there has been a drive on to cripple the House Committee on Un-American Activities and The Senate Internal Security subcommittee—the only two congressional groups which constantly expose to public view Communist operations inside the United States. The agitation to abolish the House committee has had the assistance of gullible Americans who think they are merely fighting for the cause of free speech. But FBI Director Hoover says:

"The Communists hope to repeat the success which they achieved on the West Coast last May in spearheading mob demonstrations by college students and other young people against a committee of Congress."

Riot charges against the demonstrators in San Francisco were dismissed by a local judge for "practical reasons" but he declared in a comment made over the weekend that his action should not be construed as condoning what happened. He added:

"I very definitely agree with the view of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that the city hall riot last May 13 was instigated by Communist subversives."

THE FBI DIRECTOR not only warns against Communist infiltration of the youth movements in this country—as has happened in other countries—but, in recent articles that appeared in Christianity Today, he points out how the Communists are trying hard to infiltrate American churches. He writes:

"From bases behind the Iron Curtain and in the non-Communist world," this cloud of Communist propaganda is drenching many lands, with a particularly heavy fall-out in this nation.

"The deadliest of these Communist missiles—whose warheads are exceptionally heavy—are being directed against the Christian pulpit. Communist gunners, with special ideological training and schooled in atheistic perversity, are 'sighting in' the clergy—hoping to shatter, immobilize, and confuse this powerful forum of idealism, morality, and civic virtue.

"No assignment is more strategic in the Communist world today than the disruption of the church of God—both within and outside the Iron Curtain. . . .

"The Communist party, through infiltration tactics, is attempting to reach inside the churches. In one instance, a Communist official instructed party members to join churches and become active in their organizations. Another member was working in the church office, while still another party official helped conduct the financial affairs of his parish.

"Most important, of course, is the youth field. A national party leader recently commented that Communist youth must find 'common ground' with church youth groups, 'not only for ideological reasons but also for the use of their facilities!' "

MR. HOOVER says that the Communist tactic is to get clergymen or laymen to sign Communist-sponsored petitions which favor Communist objectives while cleverly hiding the Communist inspiration. He adds:

"To a prospective 'customer,' a Communist canvasser will say: 'The Rev. Mr. X has signed this petition, why don't you sign too?' 'The Rev. Mr. Y has endorsed this organization. You know him. Why don't you help us and contribute some money?' 'The Rev. Z has spoken favorably of this proposal. This shows that it's in the spirit of the church.'

"To the Communists, any support gained from church circles enables them to break down the moral antipathy of the community and gives them a desperately desired 'respectability.' Hence this strategy of Communist deceit is aimed to undermine, hoodwink, and exploit the Christian pulpit."

Mr. Hoover wrote three articles for Christianity Today, a publication which circulates widely among churchmen. He outlined in detail the methods by which the Communists try to infiltrate the clergy. He does not accuse any clergyman of being identified with the Communist cause but merely warns against the tactics that are used to deceive the gullible.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Comes now the season of the common cold and the mystery that engages my attention each winter. What accounts for the fact I have not had a cold for many years, after being susceptible during the earlier years of my life?

This will shock my Republican friends, but in a dream I had about going on a trip with the Kennedy boys, Jack and Bob, I found both of them companionable, full of fun and fond of joshing each other.

My New Year's eve memory is of the firebell in the small town where I grew up tolling out the death of the old year at midnight while I lay snug abed thinking of the resolutions I intended to keep—resolutely.

Due to getting in my bid early, I was able to replace my stock of old-fashioned neckties with a new selection this Christmas, instead of having to pretend to be overjoyed with gifts of socks and pajamas and other haberdashery I didn't want.

Nothing stirs my admiration like old men and women who have quit being afraid of public opinion. This explains my feeling about Cyrus Eaton and Harry Truman. I rarely agree with either of them, but I feel good about both of them for speaking their minds.

I have been listening for years to ideas about fool-proofing society against drunken drivers and so far have heard no solution to the problem. Neither have I heard a solution for the problem caused by drivers who overload on sedatives, anti-histimines stimulants like coffee and bezedrine, or drivers who fall asleep, cannot see properly, or have no judgment.

Something about the Belgians makes it hard for me to believe they are capable of milling around like excitable people elsewhere, and I suspect it was my childhood notion that Flemish were phlegmatic. I thought Flemish people would be full of plegm. Okay, let it go.

Among with some way to pump water out of a well when the electrical gadget goes on the fritz, it would be a superb idea to furnish a thing called a crank, in case an automobile cannot be started with the electrical gadget. Believe it or not, all automobiles once were started with manpower and cranks continued to be standard equipment after the self-starter was invented.

Two kinds of people have worn out their welcomes on my personal doormat: Southerners who argue it is constitutional to violate the Constitution and creeps from anywhere who argue it is American to undermine the vital part of Americanism set forth in the Bill of Rights.

If television had invented a game for its special purposes, it couldn't have done better than football, where most action is at close quarters and which uses a ball large enough to show up on a TV screen.

My government makes me think of a greenhorn runner who keeps looking back over his shoulder to see who's coming up from behind, instead of concentrating on picking 'em up and laying 'em down out front, which is the secret of winning races.

It's my theory about deaths that seem to have been caused by overexertion in cold weather—the so-called "snow shovel deaths"—that exertion has very little to do with it. I think the trouble is suffocation from too much cold air, causing constriction of the throat and lungs.

New York City has hit the silliness skids with a decision to eliminate race and color on future birth certificates. In this zany line of reasoning, the next step will be to eliminate sex, too, lest that too lead to discrimination.

For the record, I'd like to predict that among those who won't be with us a year from now will be all the bearded Cubans, all the African leaders whose names we know, six top Russians and one U.S. astronaut.

When It's Time To Fix The Roof

Everybody knows about the fellow who couldn't fix the roof when it was raining and when it wasn't raining the roof didn't leak.

It's interesting to think in a time of economic slack about this fellow's brother, who has some strange notions about getting things done, too.

The brother is in business.

When it's raining, he says he cannot make improvements and repairs. But when the sun comes out, he doesn't make them either, because then he's too busy with his business.

The point is that these things must be done if he is going to stay in business. Not only must the roof be kept in repair but capital improvements must be made.

Things must be shifted around and arranged more conveniently. Trash must be carted away and new things brought in to keep the place in operating condition.

New signs must be put out front. Business contacts must be brushed up and kept shiny when there is time to do the job right.

The time to do all these things is when there is nothing more important to do.

ECONOMISTS are calling attention to a peculiarity of the charts by which they visualize the rate of economic activity — the "saucer-shaped slump."

This is the kind the United States is having now — a "saucer-shaped slump." Instead of sliding down a sharp incline to one of the "new lows" economists hate to talk about, business is coasting down a shallow slope that may "saucer out" by mid-year.

Business is having this privilege because so many Americans have continued to feel confident that they have been fixing the roof, instead of complaining because it was raining, or waiting until the sun came out again, when they would be too busy.

The country learned a memorable lesson in the slump of 1957-1958 when the Eisenhower administration was urged by shrill voices to do something drastic to make things get better instantly. It learned that confidence is the foundation of all business planning and the most confidence - inspiring policy government can follow is not to fly into hysterics when the shrill voices are heard.

THE INCOMING Kennedy administration is showing heartening signs of having the same point of view that made the Eisenhower administration a rallying point for economic confidence.

Its first job will be to reassure the roof-fixers that there is work to be done and now is the time to do it.

Its second job will be to sit on the boom that is almost certain to develop during its first year in power, to keep it from setting off an inflationary explosion.

It can be grateful for the "saucer-shaped slump," the newest thing in the jargon of the economists.

Instead of falling off a cliff, the U.S. economy these days rides up and down a roller coaster.

Confidence makes all the difference.

One, Two, Three-Shift

Dr. Patrick M. S. Blackett, Nobel Prize winner and president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, has turned into one of our favorite people. He has a theory about wandering continents.

Dr. Blackett heads the physics department at Imperial College of Science and Technology in London. He is a scholar of substance. His theory has substance, too. Even those who disagree with it are hard-pressed to dispose of the massive evidence he has assembled that continental masses on the earth's surface are in continuous motion.

This latitude of North America was below the equator 400 million years ago. This is typical of the scale of motion in the last half billion years. India once was near the South Pole. Europe once was largely in the southern hemisphere.

Either these things are true, or the earth's entire crust itself has shifted its position. What has put Dr. Blackett into controversy is his growing conviction that only the continental masses have moved and this explains why coal formed elsewhere is found now in places where it does not belong and why dinosaurs are found embedded in ice.

But that is not why Dr. Blackett has become one of our favorite people. It is because he makes it possible when conversation turns to the weather to say, "My friend Dr. Blackett, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, says it didn't use to be this way. He thinks the continents are moving. Although ours is moving northward at the moment, it might reverse direction and move southward, in which event all of us not already living in the subtropics could be there without moving."

On the other hand, if North America doesn't change direction they may be digging us out of the polar ice in another half billion years. But we never mention that when we talk about our friend Dr. Blackett and his moving continents. Too grisly.

A Good Show

Regardless of who wins or who loses, it's a pleasure to have three visiting basketball teams as our guests during the first invitational high school holiday tournament here.

By their spirited play, the squads from Marietta, Massillon and Midland have added a spice to the season along with the local East Liverpool Potters.

High school athletic officials have lined up an attractive card in their first venture into the type of tournament which is gaining favor throughout the tri-state area. If future conditions justify it, the tourney should become a permanent fixture.

Stranger Things Have Happened

King Badouin and his bride have flown home to Belgium ahead of their honeymoon schedule, to be close to events in Brussels.

It has taken many months for the non-Belgian world to understand that the impact of events in the Congo — the violence, disorder, economic upset and even the bloodshed —was only part of the consequences of the Congo's separation from Belgium.

The other part now is in the news — rioting and disorder in Brussels. There will be political repercussions, in all probability; there usually are. It will be made plainer than it ever has been before that the most incredible development of the mid-10th century was Britain's ability to change from empire to commonwealth, from colonialism to free association of sovereign nations, without bringing ruin on both the British and their one-time possessions.

The Belgians had not prepared either themselves or the Congolese for the shock of separation. They had imagined a post-separation situation in which the Congolese would quickly find a form of government satisfactory for their needs and continue to keep contact with Belgium to satisfy their needs.

It was not forseen that both the Congolese and the Belgians would suffer from the separation because neither was ready to go on without the other. Certainly it would be hard to foresee, now that the damage has been done, any possibility of reconciliation.

But stranger things have happened than that the Congolese might experience a reaction from violence and chaos and re-establish some of the happier circumstances of their existence when Belgium was their patron. It would not be a return to colonialism. It would be a return to an association that was terminated too abruptly for the good of either country—but this time the association would be voluntary.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

This is the story of Arnah, the shepherd who remained to adore, to watch over and to comfort after the others and the magi had departed.

The holy night in the Bethlehem manger had been wondrous when many came to kneel and marvel. But in a few days they had gone. The gift bearers had left. The star had seemed to dim. Arnah alone had lingered, never permitting the glow of the first Christmas to lessen in his heart.

His presence cheered Joseph and Mary. The Babe in the crib smiled on him. Arnah had been truly moved, not for a few hours, a night or a season.

"I could bring no gifts," he said humbly, "I am only a tender of sheep. I have nothing," but Mary said, "You have the greatest gift, lasting adoration, love and dedication. You are not merely a shepherd, Arnah; you are an abiding friend, a man who truly understands."

"Your faith is lasting. You do not forget too soon. You wish to be with us as long as possible," added Joseph.

"Yes. The spell grips me now as it did on the night of the Child's birth," said Arnah.

"That warms us more than all the gifts of the magi and the words of the Wise Men. Look, the Babe is smiling on you again," said Mary.

The shepherd heard a voice whisper, "Many will gather together, come to the crib and proclaim undying adoration. But they will depart swiftly. Some will remain patiently and reverently. A week or two will not suffice them. Through you, oh faithful shepherd, this is known to Joseph, Mary and the Child."

Arnah set about helping around the manger. He felt a surpassing happiness, never to be felt by those who experienced the glow of the Nativity only for Yuletide.

GEN. MacARTHUR'S trophies and papers will be housed in a national museum in Norfolk, Va. It had better be fireproof, since it will presumably hold his opinions on Harry Truman.

Other MacArthur articles in the museum will possibly include:

1. The icebag used on his head whenever he read a Truman statement on Korea.
2. Bottle which held tranquilizers used by the general each time Harry held a walk-around-town interview.

James M. Landis' report blitzing the "alphabet soup" federal boards, known by initials from ABC to XYZ, will get fast attention from new President. He may name a federal CCCC (Cut, Consolidate and Coordinate Commission) and STS (Sock the Snafu) agency.

The largest bicycle in the world rests in the museum at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Mich. Built in 1896, it is 23¾ feet long, weighs 305 pounds, carries ten men, and is still in running condition.

A third of a female mosquito's weight is in her wing muscles. She can vibrate her wings 300 times a second and fly 100 inches a second—which is almost six miles an hour.

Did Somebody Ask, 'What's Cooking?'

Communists Emerge From Their Holes

By Victor Riesel

U.S. Communists, long hidden in a musty underground of their own, have been directed by Soviet international leaders to surge out into the open and activate their national Communist party on a wide political front.

Victor Riesel

There is documentary evidence that U.S. Communists were told not to fear emerging from their obscure and secret cells so they can once more operate in Communist party clubs, sections and districts.

They have, in fact, been told to register, each member "on a single sheet," so that the Communist "center" in each area would have his name, address, age, sex, union membership, skills, affiliations and length of time in the Communist party, U.S.A.

The above order was dispatched on Oct. 25, to all "district chairmen, and district organizational secretaries." The directive was signed by "The National Organization Bureau, Communist Party, U.S.A."

No such message would have been put on paper without the authorization and direction of the Soviet Party's Central Committee—which is made up of men more realistic than Dostoyevsky, more cynical then Nietzsche.

THE SOVIET Central committee's experts on the U.S. would not waste their time on reorganization of the American Communist party if they had not a specific purpose at this specific moment.

They believe, it seems to me, that they can exploit the growing number of jobless—especially in the steel industry.

THIS IS OBVIOUS from the directive, a copy of which is in this columnist's hands:

"The National Organizational Bureau with the approval of the national secretariat of our party," the order says, "decided to conduct a national registration of our organization this year. We believe this is necessary so as to give us information on the membership and its composition.

"This information will be of benefit to the national organization as well as the respective districts. It is proposed that this drive be conducted following the elections.

"In planning this activity we have held recently an enlarged organization commission meeting in New York which included representatives from East Coast districts and the organization secretary from Illinois. Similar considerations are being given by the Mid-West districts. Other districts, among them the West Coast, should plan similar meetings in their respective districts."

The document directs its regional officials "to discuss new recruits as well as individuals who can be won back into our party."

IT IS APPARENT that the strategy is to recreate enough strength to run mass rallies, attack the U.S. government and even elect a sufficient number of minor officials in some cities to make loud pro-Soviet noise.

This would lend substance to the shadowy Soviet propaganda in Asian and African lands, charging that with our gold running out we are falling apart.

The Communist party, U.S.A., is specifically fascinated by the 1961 municipal elections across the U.S. It is not inconceivable that by its "concentration" technique it could elect a city councilman in one community, and perhaps even higher officials in others.

Evidence of this tactic is in a second letter dispatched from Communist party headquarters a month after the registration order. This time it was signed by Phil Bart, national organization secretary.

IT WAS MAILED Nov. 22. In part it said:

"Dear Comrades: When you come into the meeting of the national committee . . . we urge you to bring information in reference to the elections of 1961. This information should include: . "No assignment is more strategic in the Communist world today than the disruption of the church of God—both within and outside the Iron Curtain. . . .

"The Communist party, through infiltration tactics, is attempting to reach inside the churches. In one instance, a Communist official instructed party members to join churches and become active in their organizations. Another member was working in the church office, while still another party official helped conduct the financial affairs of his parish.

"Most important, of course, is the youth field. A national party leader recently commented that Communist youth must find 'common ground' with church youth groups, 'not only for ideological reasons but also for the use of their facilities!' "

MR. HOOVER says that the Communist tactic is to get clergymen or laymen to sign Communist-sponsored petitions which favor Communist objectives while cleverly hiding the Communist inspiration. He adds:

"To a prospective 'customer,' a Communist canvasser will say: 'The Rev. Mr. X has signed this petition, why don't you sign too?' 'The Rev. Mr. Y has endorsed this organization. You know him. Why don't you help us and contribute some money?' 'The Rev. Z has spoken favorably of this proposal. This shows that it's in the spirit of the church.'

"To the Communists, any support gained from church circles enables them to break down the moral antipathy of the community and gives them a desperately desired 'respectability.' Hence this strategy of Communist deceit is aimed to undermine, hoodwink, and exploit the Christian pulpit."

Mr. Hoover wrote three articles for Christianity Today, a publication which circulates widely among churchmen. He outlined in detail the methods by which the Communists try to infiltrate the clergy. He does not accuse any clergyman of being identified with the Communist cause but merely warns against the tactics that are used to deceive the gullible.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Comes now the season of the common cold and the mystery that engages my attention each winter. What accounts for the fact I have not had a cold for many years, after being susceptible during the earlier years of my life?

This will shock my Republican friends, but in a dream I had about going on a trip with the Kennedy boys, Jack and Bob, I found both of them companionable, full of fun and fond of joshing each other.

My New Year's eve memory is of the firebell in the small town where I grew up tolling out the death of the old year at midnight while I lay snug abed thinking of the resolutions I intended to keep—resolutely.

Due to getting in my bid early, I was able to replace my stock of old-fashioned neckties with a new selection this Christmas, instead of having to pretend to be overjoyed with gifts of socks and pajamas and other haberdashery I didn't want.

Nothing stirs my admiration like old men and women who have quit being afraid of public opinion. This explains my feeling about Cyrus Eaton and Harry Truman. I rarely agree with either of them, but I feel good about both of them for speaking their minds.

I have been listening for years to ideas about fool-proofing society against drunken drivers and so far have heard no solution to the problem. Neither have I heard a solution for the problem caused by drivers who overload on sedatives, anti-histimines stimulants like coffee and bezedrine, or drivers who fall asleep, cannot see properly, or have no judgment.

Something about the Belgians makes it hard for me to believe they are capable of milling around like excitable people elsewhere, and I suspect it was my childhood notion that Flemish were phlegmatic. I thought Flemish people would be full of plegm. Okay, let it go.

Among with some way to pump water out of a well when the electrical gadget goes on the fritz, it would be a superb idea to furnish a thing called a crank, in case an automobile cannot be started with the electrical gadget. Believe it or not, all automobiles once were started with manpower and cranks continued to be standard equipment after the self-starter was invented.

Two kinds of people have worn out their welcomes on my personal doormat: Southerners who argue it is constitutional to violate the Constitution and creeps from anywhere who argue it is American to undermine the vital part of Americanism set forth in the Bill of Rights.

If television had invented a game for its special purposes, it couldn't have done better than football, where most action is at close quarters and which uses a ball large enough to show up on a TV screen.

My government makes me think of a greenhorn runner who keeps looking back over his shoulder to see who's coming up from behind, instead of concentrating on picking 'em up and laying 'em down out front, which is the secret of winning races.

It's my theory about deaths that seem to have been caused by overexertion in cold weather—the so-called "snow shovel deaths"—that exertion has very little to do with it. I think the trouble is suffocation from too much cold air, causing constriction of the throat and lungs.

New York City has hit the silliness skids with a decision to eliminate race and color on future birth certificates. In this zany line of reasoning, the next step will be to eliminate sex, too, lest that too lead to discrimination.

For the record, I'd like to predict that among those who won't be with us a year from now will be all the bearded Cubans, all the African leaders whose names we know, six top Russians and one U.S. astronaut.

Mine Disaster Among 10 Top West Virginia Stories

CHARLESTON (AP) — Eighteen lives snuffed out by a coal mine fire . . . the biggest cash theft in West Virginia history. . .the Democrats' decisive November victory in the state.

Those stories headed the list of the 10 biggest West Virginia news stores of 1960, in the collective opinion of editors of Associated Press member newspapers in the state.

A poll of the editors resulted in this list of the year's 10 biggest state stories, in order:

(1) Holden mine disaster; (2) theft of nearly $352,000 in cash from State Motor Vehicles Department; (3) Democratic victory in general election; (4) Kennedy-Humphrey contest in West Virginia primary; (5) Crime Commission hearings.

(6) Rosemary custody case; (7) Barron-Skeen tape recording case; (8) state's continued economic problems; (9) murder of two Huntington baby-sitters, and (10) West Virginia University's retention of Art Lewis as football coach and his later resignation.

The mine disaster at Holden, near Logan, was the occasion for one of the most intensive and prolonged rescue efforts in the state's history.

It went on for nine wintry days last March and, in the end, was to no avail. The 18 men who had been trapped underground by a fire in the Holden No. 22 mine at the Island Creek Coal Co. were all found dead.

They had survived only a short time before being asphyxiated and had been dead through the major part of the rescue effort.

The state's No. 2 story of 1960 was provided by an unemployed bus driver who took up breaking and entering.

One night last June, 32-year-old Earl H. Mathews slipped through a window into the State Motor Vehicles Department, on the first floor of an eight-story state office building in Charleston.

Mathews used a pick and sledgehammer to break into the department's big walk-in vault. There he found a bonanza of money paid by motorists in the annual auto license renewal rush, then at its heights.

He got away with $351,840 in cash. The haul caused such a furor and was so many times bigger than he had expected that, Mathews related later, he didn't dare spend any of it. The money was intact in the trunk of his car when State Police arrested him in South Charleston 19 days after the breakin.

Last month Mathews was sentenced to 1 to 10 years in prison. The judge recommended that he serve at least five years.

Fund Balance Released For New State Building

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Controlling Board has released the balance of an $11 million appropriation for a new state office building.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has urged speed in getting construction started in a slum clearance area about a block from the Statehouse. However, Mayor W. Ralston Westlake of Columbus, a Republican, wants the building constructed on a civic center site yet to be designated.

Westlake has urged a review of building plans by the legislature that convenes next Monday under GOP control.

The board released $10,208,500 for actual construction. Members previously released $791,500 to buy land and make test borings.

Reclamation Group Named For Cemetery

EAST PALESTINE — Mayor Robert Harding Thursday appointed a four-man committee to direct reclamation of the Memorial Cemetery which Council recently authorized, appropriating $500 for the project.

The East Palestine Historical Society put up $500 for the cleaning of the tract, which contains a number of veterans' graves from wars dating back to 1777.

Named to the committee were Atty. D. B. Dickson, Atty. James Allison, James Fruit and Leonard Yoder. The committee will meet next week to organize and make plans for the project.

Y Toy Train Derby Will Be Held Monday

A favorite of both youngsters and adults, the annual Toy Train Derby will be held Monday night at the YMCA.

Boys and girls between 9 and 15 are eligible to compete for the trophies to be awarded the champion and runnerup. The races will begin at 7 p.m. with contestants asked to report by 6:30, Carl A. Werner, general secretary, said.

Contestants may register by calling the Y. There is no entry fee and the derby is open to the public without an admission charge.

Contestants must furnish the train consisting of an engine and two cars or the equivalent but the Y will provide two large transformers and the official track, which will be "O" gauge. Each track will be made up of some 64 pieces of straight track and 16 sections of wide-angle track.

Werner cautioned prospective entrants that not all trains will operate on "O" gauge track.

The choice of track will be decided by a flip of the coin. Each race will consist of the best of three heats. A heat will be three times around the track.

Club Skips Gifts, Donates To Fund

Instead of a gift exchange, members of the Kiwanis Club made donations to the C. A. Schell Memorial Fund of the Key Club at the Kiwanian meeting Thursday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

The fund has been established by the Key Club in memory of a Kiwanian who was one of the founders of the local organization. The high school group also is donating 10 per cent of its receipts to the fund, which will be used to establish a scholarship fund for needy students.

W. F. Porter, president, summarized the year's activities, reporting the club had "a good year" and ranked among the top clubs in the Kiwanis' 19th Division.

J. Nessly Porter, city architect and associate professor at Carnegie Institute of Technology, spoke on "A Brief Survey of European Architecture."

Mr. K Urges Summit-Level U.N. Session

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in his first talk with the British ambassador to Moscow, stressed his desire for a summit-level U. N. session on disarmament and a Berlin settlement in 1961 but gave no hint of readiness to make any concessions to the West.

Diplomatic authorities said this was the position the Soviet premier took in a 9-minute talk last Monday with Sir Frank Roberts, the new British envoy in Moscow.

British officials concede that the major Western allies will have to take a second look at the question of a U. N. summit session in the spring if Khrushchev announces he is going to lead the Soviet delegation in person again and a flock of government heads come trooping along, as they did in the fall.

But at present the Western powers see no point in trying to negotiate intricate disarmament questions amid a series of circus performances such as Khrushchev pulled off at the U. N. forum last September.

Injunction Granted To Halt Eviction Of Sharecroppers

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals today granted a temporary injunction to prevent landowners in Haywood County, Tennessee, from evicting approximately 300 Negro sharecroppers because they had registered to vote.

The three-judge court declared, however, the order was not to be construed as preventing "legitimate action" by landowners where their intentions were not intended to deprive Negroes of their voting rights.

In a separate decision, the court dismissed a mandamus action which would have required U.S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis, Tenn., to take a similar action involving 400 sharecroppers in Fayette County, Tenn.

It was understood, however, that government attorneys would use the Haywood County decision as a precedent for asking Judge Boyd to issue a temporary injunction for Fayette County.

Judge Boyd had denied the petition for the temporary injunction in Haywood County and had declined to hear the Fayette County case.

On the basis of today's decision, the appeals court now will conduct a hearing, probably in February, on an appeal from Judge Boyd's decision.

The granting of the injunction preserves the "status quo" of sharecroppers whose contracts for farming of land expire automatically after Saturday.

It means, attorney said that the contracts between the sharecroppers and the landowners may not be terminated as of Saturday on the basis of any civil rights law violation.

The three-judge court declared, however, the order was not to be construed as preventing "legitimate action" by landowners where their intentions were not intended to deprive Negroes of their voting rights.

In a separate decision, the court dismissed a mandamus action which would have required U.S. Dist. Judge Marion S. Boyd of Memphis, Tenn., to take a similar action involving 400 sharecroppers in Fayette County, Tenn.

It was understood, however, that government attorneys would use the Haywood County decision as a precedent for asking Judge Boyd to issue a temporary injunction for Fayette County.

Judge Boyd had denied the petition for the temporary injunction in Haywood County and had declined to hear the Fayette County case.

On the basis of today's decision, the appeals court now will conduct a hearing, probably in February, on an appeal from Judge Boyd's decision.

The granting of the injunction preserves the "status quo" of sharecroppers whose contracts for farming of land expire automatically after Saturday.

It means, attorney said that the contracts between the sharecroppers and the landowners may not be terminated as of Saturday on the basis of any civil rights law violation.

Smoke Fills Home

LISBON — Volunteer firemen were called to the home of George Riggle, 313 W. Washington St., at 5 p. m. Thursday when the house filled with smoke. Extra Policeman William Martin, a member and secretary of the fire department, arrived first in the police cruiser and had everything under control when the fire truck arrived. The officer said furnace gas exploded, blowing open the furnace door.

Leave For Houston

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Chargers, champions of the American Football League's Western Division, leave today for Houston where they'll play the Oilers for the AFL title Sunday. The Oilers are 6½-point favorites.

Ceases Publication

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Tallmadge Home News, a weekly newspaper published in nearby Tallmadge the last five years, ceased publication Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conaway, publishers of the tabloid-size paper, said its discontinuance was caused by "purely personal considerations."

More than 300,000 eye injuries occur annually in American industry—and about 90 per cent of these are through "foolish carelessness."

ently started the blaze in an upstairs clothes closet of the 2½-story frame, owned by Paul Reed, a brother of Donald Reed, who was at work at the Mackintosh-Hemphill Co. at Midland when the fire occurred.

While in the upstairs the second time the flames broke out, Tim Clapperton, 62, of 537 Indiana Ave. was struck on the head by falling plaster and taken to City Hospital.

He is in "fairly good" condition today. Clapperton, former volunteer and an electrician, escaped any lacerations of the scalp but complained of a slight headache.

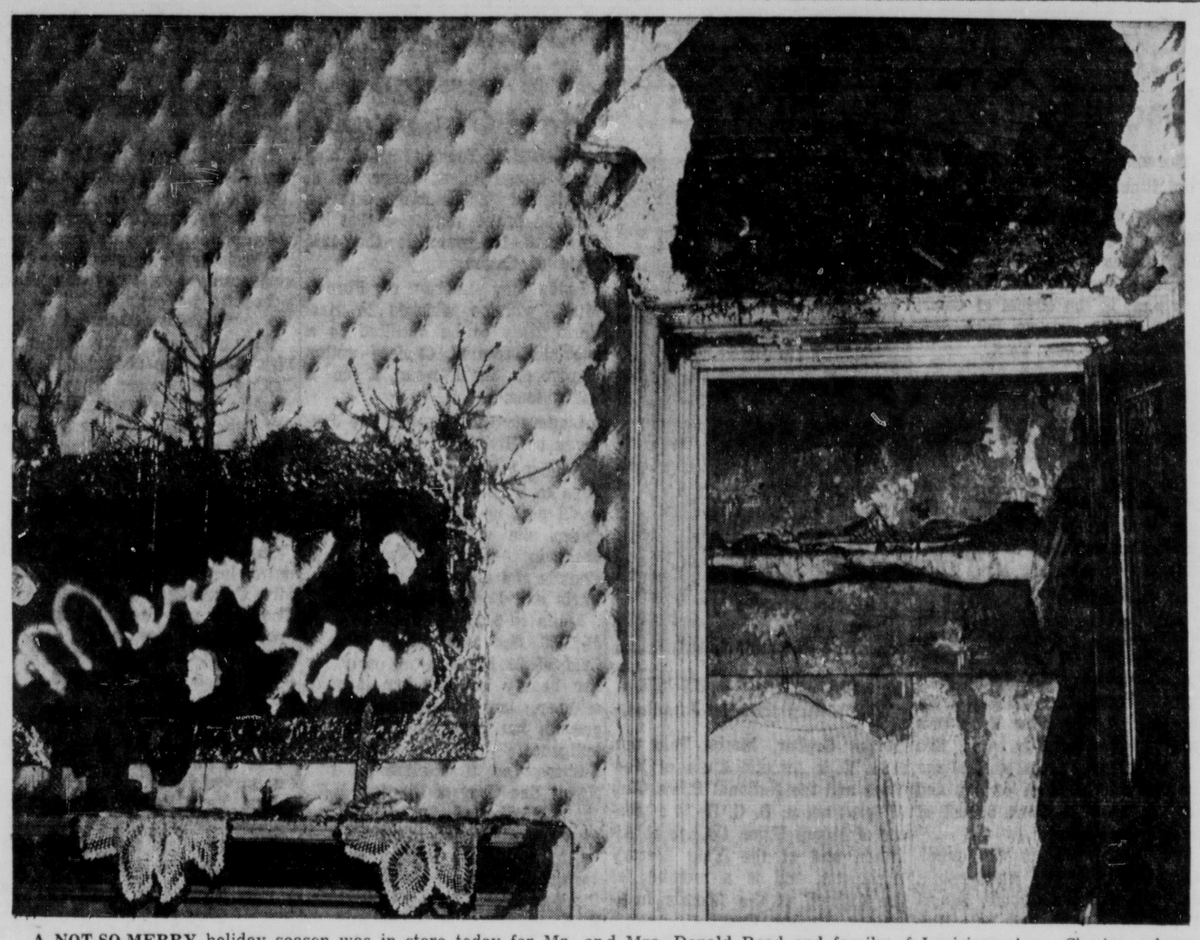
Chief Glover said the house was insured but not the contents.

The loss included all the upstairs furniture and almost all the clothing of the family other than what they were wearing. Outer garments had to be borrowed from neighbors to take the children to Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hoschar, 1907 Riverside Ave., Wellsville.

There was water and smoke in the downstairs area also, the family reported.

The children include Katherine, 15 months; Richard, 1½; Vicky, 2½, Donna, 3½, Donald, 7, and Jean, 13.

Glenmoor firemen have invited the family to take surplus items donated by area residents to the Ellsworth Greathouse family whose Cream Ridge Rd. home was destroyed by fire last week. More clothing and toys were donated than the Greathouse family could use, firemen said.



A NOT-SO-MERRY holiday season was in store today for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reed and family of Louisiana Ave., Chester, whose home was heavily damaged by fire Thursday night. The charred area above the clothes closet in the downstairs livingroom apparently was where the blaze started. It was believed caused by an electric short, firemen said.

Attorneys Due $1,250 For Murder Defense

LISBON — A criminal docket entry for the trial of Frank Fish, Salem area truck farmer acquitted of second degree murder Dec. 20 by a Common Pleas Court jury, shows that his court-appointed attorneys received $2,123.

The court allowed Atty. John E. Bauknecht of East Palestine and Atty. Alfred Fitch of Salem $1,250 for defending Fish, $400 for taking depositions in Alabama under commission of the court, and $473 for expenses.

treasury, rather than the present annual appropriation.

"It is impossible to make this an efficient program on an annual basis," Fulbright said.

2. The two don't see eye to eye at all on Kennedy's call for swift action by the new Congress to increase the $1 minimum wage by 25 cents an hour. Kennedy made it clear that Fulbright wants to defer action. Fulbright has taken the position that an increase while the American economy is lagging could hurt business.

3. Kennedy declined to say whether the new administration will recommend an increase or a decrease in over-all foreign aid spending—military and economic. He said he won't know until the end of January after "we see exactly what the balance of payments situation is." July-September figures for this year show a deficit running at the rate of a bit more than $4 billion annually—that much more being spent abroad than is coming back to this country.

Spokesmen Say Youth Parley Is Not Communist-Inspired

CHICAGO (AP)—A youth conference in Chicago this weekend, labeled Communist by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, is not Communist-led or inspired, say spokesmen for the meeting.

Three of the young persons who are organizing the meeting said Thursday it will establish a "left-progressive and socialist" youth organization.

Hoover, in Washington earlier this month said "the Communists are completing final arrangements for a conference to be held in Chicago," to formulate plans for a new national youth organization.

Miss Alva Buxenbaum, 23, of Philadelphia, a member of the conference initiating committee, said: "J. Edgar Hoover is a paranoid. He sees enemies where there are no enemies."

A statement by Miss Buxenbaum and two members of her committee, Daniel Rubin, 29, and Milton Anthopoulos, 23, both of New York, said: "We refuse to allow Mr. Hoover and people with such paranoia to inject communism as an issue into our conference."

Miss Buxenbaum, who described herself as non-Communist, said she expected about 100 persons at the convention, which will be closed to the press. Rubin and Anthopoulos declined to say if they are Communists.

Blacklist

American Civil Liberties Union, said this is the first time anti-trust laws have been used "to secure enforcement of civil rights.

"The Sherman Anti-Trust Act makes it unlawful for persons to agree not to employ any person or group of persons," he added. "In this case, the complaint alleges there was an agreement by all those named as defendants not to employ persons who invoked the Fifth Amendment before a congressional committee or who refused to furnish information to a congressional committee." All the plaintiffs fall into one or the other of these categories, Wirin said.

Hollywood studios have denied the existence of a blacklist, but Wirin sail such a list has been used since 1947 and now contains more than 200 names. He said the suit would detail how the alleged blacklist has been employed.

Defendant studios are Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Columbia, Paramount, 20th Century-Fox, Warner Brothers, Universal - International, Walt Disney Productions and Allied Artists. Also named are the Motion Picture Association of America and the Association of Motion Picture Producers.

sively and the transformer on the pole jarred, requiring a temporary power shutoff, the patrol said.

A tanker truck driven by John H. Thomas, 38, of Mantua R.D. 1 jack-knifed on Route 7 about 2 miles north of Route 30 yesterday, causing the rig to skid into a ditch on the opposite side of the highway.

Thomas suffered a bruise of the right leg, but did not receive treatment. The left side of the cab and trailer were damaged, officers reported.

Traffic on the Route 30 Canton Hill just west of Lisbon was blocked for almost a half hour yesterday when a tractor-trailer truck skidded into a ditch.

The rig, headed east, was driven by Ralph Hoaglin, 36, of Pittsburgh who said the trailer slid around when he tried to slow for a vehicle ahead.

The FBI charged that Roddey took a top secret tape recorder and approximately 200 documents. Roddey said he had known since September that he was under investigation. He expressed relief that the charges were no more severe and "actually are as indicated to me previously."

He was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Henry W. Kirkland. There were two counts of theft of government property and three counts of fraud.

Roddey worked in the Pentagon from 1958 until the staff was cut last August. He came here a week ago to spend Christmas at the home of his mother-in-law.

Crew Finishes Repair On Broken Water Main

A city water department crew finished repairs late Thursday afternoon on a broken 8-inch main on the River Rd., restoring service to about a dozen families in the vicinity.

An 8-foot section of the pipe was cut out and replaced, Supt. Donald T. Duke reported. He said the walls of the 85-year-old sand-cast pipe were "thin as paper," although their normal thickness is about half an inch.

The work was completed when the trench was refilled about 4 p. m., Duke said. The break was discovered Tuesday and work began Wednesday. Affected families were supplied temporarily via a small connection on a fire hydrant that allowed them to draw water.

Lisbon, unsuccessful Republican candidate for county treasurer, will begin work Tuesday in the recorder's office.

She will replace Mrs. Ruth Cornelli of Guilford Lake, who will continue on the job the first two weeks of January. Mrs. Dixon has worked in the treasurer's and auditor's offices.

Also leaving office this weekend will be County Commissioner R. Max Gard of Lisbon and J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, assistant prosecuting attorney, who goes to Columbus as the county's second state representative.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw said he is not yet ready to announce his assistant.

Commissioners voted Thursday to re-employ all their appointees for the first two weeks in January. The action, on the motion of Walter Hunston of East Palestine, lone Republican on the board, is in contrast to the Democratic purge two years ago when GOP appointees received termination notices between Christmas and New Year's.

Joining Hunston on the board Tuesday will be Galen Greenisen of Salem, returning after a two-year absence. Frank C. Wilson, Wellsville grocer and board president this year, will be the lone Democrat the next two years. Reorganization is scheduled Tuesday.

Winding up 1960 business yesterday, commissoners ordered $1,620 worth of office furniture for County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge from Dorrance Furniture, Lisbon, and reappointed Dr. William Z. Sulkes, East Liverpool dentist, to a three-year term on the Tuberculosis Control Clinic Board of Trustees. Hunston opposed both motions.

Cleveland Motorist Receives Fine Of $100

LISBON — Joseph S. Connor, 25, of Cleveland was fined $100 and costs Thursday by County Judge J. L. MacDonald for driving on an expired license.

Ralph O. Hoaglin, 36, Pittsburgh was fined $10 and costs on improper speed for highway conditions. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol on Canton Hill west.

James T. May, 42, of East Liverpool forfeited a $15 appearance bond on a speeding charge.

sides," he said. "We might have saved some of them if we could have got through quicker."

The man who turned in the alarm also asserted two persons denied him use of a telephone to report the blaze he saw coming from the third floor apartment. He said five minutes were lost trying to reach an available phone.

Mrs. Hawkins, 23, is separated from her husband. Her children who died were:

Sons Gary, 4, Drewalie, 3, and Steve, 2, and daughters Caroline 1, and Melody, 5 months.

Another Hawkins child, Christine Victoria, 6, was visiting her grandmother.

The mother, who was led out safely by rescuers, said she was asleep on a day bed. "I woke up and couldn't catch my breath," she said. "I felt for my babies, but I couldn't see or think."

Mulcahy estimated damage at $12,000 to the building and $4,000 to contents. Most of the damage was in the Hawkins apartment and the second-floor hall.

Although cause of the blaze was undetermined, Mulcahy said a small gas stove, with all four burners turned on, was resting against a kitchen wall.

That wall was completely burned through to the living room, the chief said. Mulcahy said Mrs. Hawkins told him she had turned on the stove because the apartment was too cold.

Denies Allegations

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. W. A. James, a Republican who was re-elected a Trumbull County commission, Thursday filed in Common Pleas Court a denial of all allegations in a vote-fraud suit filed by Joseph J. Baldine. A Hubbard Democrat, Baldine lost to James by 29 votes in a recount of all the county's 239 precincts. Baldine's charges of irregularities in the absentee ballot applications and tally are tentatively set for a hearing in mid-January.

Wellsville Health Board Convenes

A meeting will be held in January of all health officers in Columbiana County for discussion of administering tuberculosis tests to school pupils, the Wellsville Board of Health was told at its yearend meeting Thursday night in City Hall.

Dr. Gustav A. Peller, city health commissioner, told the board all county health officers will meet to try to arrive at a uniform method of testing pupils for TB.

The Heaf tuberculin test is being used among schools, along with the Manteaux test, since the Columbiana County Public Health League abandoned X-ray examinations of children.

Routine reports were heard during the final meeting. John H. Grafton, chairman, said the board probably will reorganize at its next meeting Jan. 26 at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

Cleveland Motorist Receives Fine Of $100

LISBON — Joseph S. Connor, 25, of Cleveland was fined $100 and costs Thursday by County Judge J. L. MacDonald for driving on an expired license.

Ralph O. Hoaglin, 36, Pittsburgh was fined $10 and costs on improper speed for highway conditions. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol on Canton Hill west.

James T. May, 42, of East Liverpool forfeited a $15 appearance bond on a speeding charge.

sides," he said. "We might have saved some of them if we could have got through quicker."

The man who turned in the alarm also asserted two persons denied him use of a telephone to report the blaze he saw coming from the third floor apartment. He said five minutes were lost trying to reach an available phone.

Mrs. Hawkins, 23, is separated from her husband. Her children who died were:

Sons Gary, 4, Drewalie, 3, and Steve, 2, and daughters Caroline 1, and Melody, 5 months.

Another Hawkins child, Christine Victoria, 6, was visiting her grandmother.

The mother, who was led out safely by rescuers, said she was asleep on a day bed. "I woke up and couldn't catch my breath," she said. "I felt for my babies, but I couldn't see or think."

Mulcahy estimated damage at $12,000 to the building and $4,000 to contents. Most of the damage was in the Hawkins apartment and the second-floor hall.

Although cause of the blaze was undetermined, Mulcahy said a small gas stove, with all four burners turned on, was resting against a kitchen wall.

That wall was completely burned through to the living room, the chief said. Mulcahy said Mrs. Hawkins told him she had turned on the stove because the apartment was too cold.

Denies Allegations

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. W. A. James, a Republican who was re-elected a Trumbull County commission, Thursday filed in Common Pleas Court a denial of all allegations in a vote-fraud suit filed by Joseph J. Baldine. A Hubbard Democrat, Baldine lost to James by 29 votes in a recount of all the county's 239 precincts. Baldine's charges of irregularities in the absentee ballot applications and tally are tentatively set for a hearing in mid-January.

Wellsville Health Board Convenes

A meeting will be held in January of all health officers in Columbiana County for discussion of administering tuberculosis tests to school pupils, the Wellsville Board of Health was told at its yearend meeting Thursday night in City Hall.

Dr. Gustav A. Peller, city health commissioner, told the board all county health officers will meet to try to arrive at a uniform method of testing pupils for TB.

The Heaf tuberculin test is being used among schools, along with the Manteaux test, since the Columbiana County Public Health League abandoned X-ray examinations of children.

Routine reports were heard during the final meeting. John H. Grafton, chairman, said the board probably will reorganize at its next meeting Jan. 26 at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

The Audacious Plan—Mohole

March Tests Due To Drill Hole In Earth From Ship

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Tests will begin in March of the audacious plan to drill a hole deep into the earth from a ship at sea.

This plan is the Mohole—the first hole ever to penetrate all through the earth's crust to learn what mysteries lie in and below it.

The actual Mohole would be drilled from atop water perhaps 3½ miles deep, with special drills then biting 3 miles through the ocean floor to go below the earth's crust or outer skin for the first time.

Experimental drilling to test all the difficult techniques will start in March near Guadaloupe Island off the western coast of Mexico, the National Science Foundation and Academy-Research Council announced today.

There the sea is 12,000 feet deep —2.3 miles. Holes looking for offshore oil have never been drilled before in water deeper than a few hundred feet.

Several test holes to various depths are planned. A rotary drill working from a specially fitted ship will be used.

Digging the Mohole itself may come in a few years.

Mohole gets its name from the Mohorovicic discontinuity — Moho for short. The Moho is a boundary between the earth's thin crust and the underlying rock, the mantle, of unknown composition which extends 3,000 miles deep to the earth's core. (The core is presumably composed of nickel and iron).

The Mohole—Moho hole—can be feasibly be drilled only at sea, for the earth's crust under the oceans is as little as 2½ to 3 miles thick, as against 15 to 20 miles on land mases. And the deepest oil well ever dug on land is only 4.7 miles.

The Mohole will try to bring up samples of the mantle, and to study the curious Moho boundary layer.

The drilling also could produce a rich history of life, evolution and climate changes on earth.

This can be done by bringing up and analysing the sediments building up to 500 to 1,000 feet thickness over millions of years.

'Hi, Daddy,' Caroline Says

Kennedy's Daughter, 3, Disrupts News Conference

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Caroline Kennedy—cute, blonde and 3 — is likely to go down in history as the only daughter who ever completely and hilariously disrupted a high-level news conference.

Caroline's daddy is John F. Kennedy, the president-elect. And if the nation is wondering how he will react in an international crisis after he takes office, it can be reported he faced one on the domestic front Thursday night and dealt with it admirably—if with some embarrassment.

Kennedy and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., were holding a joint news conference to report on their discussion of a multitude of grave problems. About 40 newsmen were grouped around the ocean-front home.

At that moment Caroline slipped through the ranks of furiously scribbling reporters and into the glare of television newsreel floodlights, wearing pink pajamas and a pale blue bathrobe. She was barefooted and was clutching a pair of her mother's high heel shoes.

"Hi, daddy," she piped.

The conference was convulsed in laughter.

There was no slightest sign of fluster as the president - elect watched Caroline slip into the high heel shoes and teeter precariously on them.

At that point Kennedy took the youngster by the hand and asked whether she thought it would be a good idea to go on back into the house.

Caroline nodded smiling agreement and shuffled off stage amid uproarious laughter, the cameramen scrambling for pictures.

Hargrove Files $950,000 Suit Citing False Arrest

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Claiming he was falsely arrested for the 1959 Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Charles Clark in Mentor, Floyd E. Hargrove has filed a suit seeking $950,000 in damages. A jury acquitted him of the murder charge last June.

Defendants in the suit filed Thursday in Lake County Common Pleas Court are William B. Evans, outgoing county sheriff; Dr. Richard W. McBurney, county coroner; and Frank D. Hathy, Mentor police chief.

Hargrove is seeking $150,000 for his detention Dec. 25-29, 1959, and $300,000 for his detention after Jan. 1. In addition, $500,000 in punitive damages is sought.

It was during the period of his first arrest that police said Hargrove admitted the slaying of Clark. He also told of a love affair with the victim's wife, Lois, 31, mother of four children. She also admitted the affair of almost a year at the trial.

The petition charged there was "malicious and wanton disregard of the defendant's duties and plaintiff's rights" between Dec. 25 and Dec. 29. It added:

"By means of trickery, deceit and chicanery he was forced, against his will, to submit himself to various sundry embarrassing interrogations, grillings, tests and exhibitions."

Evans and McBurney could not be reached for comment. Hathy said: "I'm flabbergasted. I think it's ridiculous."

Hargrove now lives in Toledo. Mrs. Clark was last reported living in California with her children.

5-Point Program Proposed To Wipe Off Unpaid Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes has proposed a five - point program for consideration by the legislature to clean up a backlog of unpaid bills owed the state by its mental patients.

Rhodes, who has been critical of an administration drive to collect the back bills, Thursday offered these suggestions:

1. Cancel unpaid bills of six or more years standing.

2. Set up a schedule of flexible rates based upon the ability of a patient's relatives to pay. The rates would be determined by the Bureau of Support in the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

3. Relieve parents from the responsibility of supporting child patients who turn 21 after several years in institutions.

4. Relieve children under 21 from the responsibility of supporting parents in such institutions.

5. Or, absolve such children from support payments after they have made them for five years.

The actual Mohole would be drilled from atop water perhaps 3½ miles deep, with special drills then biting 3 miles through the ocean floor to go below the earth's crust or outer skin for the first time.

Experimental drilling to test all the difficult techniques will start in March near Guadaloupe Island off the western coast of Mexico, the National Science Foundation and Academy-Research Council announced today.

There the sea is 12,000 feet deep —2.3 miles. Holes looking for offshore oil have never been drilled before in water deeper than a few hundred feet.

Several test holes to various depths are planned. A rotary drill working from a specially fitted ship will be used.

Digging the Mohole itself may come in a few years.

Mohole gets its name from the Mohorovicic discontinuity — Moho for short. The Moho is a boundary between the earth's thin crust and the underlying rock, the mantle, of unknown composition which extends 3,000 miles deep to the earth's core. (The core is presumably composed of nickel and iron).

The Mohole—Moho hole—can be feasibly be drilled only at sea, for the earth's crust under the oceans is as little as 2½ to 3 miles thick, as against 15 to 20 miles on land mases. And the deepest oil well ever dug on land is only 4.7 miles.

The Mohole will try to bring up samples of the mantle, and to study the curious Moho boundary layer.

The drilling also could produce a rich history of life, evolution and climate changes on earth.

This can be done by bringing up and analysing the sediments building up to 500 to 1,000 feet thickness over millions of years.

'Hi, Daddy,' Caroline Says

Kennedy's Daughter, 3, Disrupts News Conference

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Caroline Kennedy—cute, blonde and 3 — is likely to go down in history as the only daughter who ever completely and hilariously disrupted a high-level news conference.

Caroline's daddy is John F. Kennedy, the president-elect. And if the nation is wondering how he will react in an international crisis after he takes office, it can be reported he faced one on the domestic front Thursday night and dealt with it admirably—if with some embarrassment.

Kennedy and Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., were holding a joint news conference to report on their discussion of a multitude of grave problems. About 40 newsmen were grouped around the ocean-front home.

At that moment Caroline slipped through the ranks of furiously scribbling reporters and into the glare of television newsreel floodlights, wearing pink pajamas and a pale blue bathrobe. She was barefooted and was clutching a pair of her mother's high heel shoes.

"Hi, daddy," she piped.

The conference was convulsed in laughter.

There was no slightest sign of fluster as the president - elect watched Caroline slip into the high heel shoes and teeter precariously on them.

At that point Kennedy took the youngster by the hand and asked whether she thought it would be a good idea to go on back into the house.

Caroline nodded smiling agreement and shuffled off stage amid uproarious laughter, the cameramen scrambling for pictures.

In 1959 Sniper Slaying

Hargrove Files $950,000 Suit Citing False Arrest

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Claiming he was falsely arrested for the 1959 Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Charles Clark in Mentor, Floyd E. Hargrove has filed a suit seeking $950,000 in damages. A jury acquitted him of the murder charge last June.

Defendants in the suit filed Thursday in Lake County Common Pleas Court are William B. Evans, outgoing county sheriff; Dr. Richard W. McBurney, county coroner; and Frank D. Hathy, Mentor police chief.

Hargrove is seeking $150,000 for his detention Dec. 25-29, 1959, and $300,000 for his detention after Jan. 1. In addition, $500,000 in punitive damages is sought.

It was during the period of his first arrest that police said Hargrove admitted the slaying of Clark. He also told of a love affair with the victim's wife, Lois, 31, mother of four children. She also admitted the affair of almost a year at the trial.

The petition charged there was "malicious and wanton disregard of the defendant's duties and plaintiff's rights" between Dec. 25 and Dec. 29. It added:

"By means of trickery, deceit and chicanery he was forced, against his will, to submit himself to various sundry embarrassing interrogations, grillings, tests and exhibitions."

Evans and McBurney could not be reached for comment. Hathy said: "I'm flabbergasted. I think it's ridiculous."

5-Point Program Proposed To Wipe Off Unpaid Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes has proposed a five - point program for consideration by the legislature to clean up a backlog of unpaid bills owed the state by its mental patients.

Rhodes, who has been critical of an administration drive to collect the back bills, Thursday offered these suggestions:

1. Cancel unpaid bills of six or more years standing.

2. Set up a schedule of flexible rates based upon the ability of a patient's relatives to pay. The rates would be determined by the Bureau of Support in the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

3. Relieve parents from the responsibility of supporting child patients who turn 21 after several years in institutions.

4. Relieve children under 21 from the responsibility of supporting parents in such institutions.

5. Or, absolve such children from support payments after they have made them for five years.

1 Killed, 5 Injured When Car Rams Tree

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Margaret Sparks, 56, of Miamisburg, Ohio, was killed Thursday night when the car in which she was riding hit a tree between the traffic lanes of a divided street here.

Five others were injured, three seriously — the victim's husband, Isaac, 56, and their daughters, Mrs. Elsie Still, 17, and Blanche Sparks, 19, both of Lexington. Sparks told police he went to sleep at the wheel. He and his wife were visiting Mrs. Still.

Male spiders are usually about one-fourth as large as the females, rarely growing any larger than three-quarters of an inch.

The 10 Worst On TV In 1960

If the man from Price Waterhouse will hand over the envelopes, I will give you the results of my annual "Ten Worst" TV awards. Choosing the winners for 1960 was especially ticklish, because the competition was exceptionally keen in nearly all categories. And now the envelopes, please!

Worst Host or Emcee: Hal Humphrey It was a battle to the wire here between Arthur Godfrey and Dick Clark, but Godfrey wins by a snide for his fatuous, patronizing attitude on "Candid Camera" (CBS).

Worst Ham: This is a new category and running ego to ego for honors were Jack Paar and Nikita Khrushchev. Jack Parr gets it for walking out of his show to hold up a principle, then returning after he looked under the principle and saw the price tag. Nikita almost overtook Jack with his shoe-pounding routine on a televised U.N. General Assembly meet.

Worst Western: "Tall Man" (NBC). The producers managed to take a good actor (Barry Sullivan) and drown him in all of the western cliche trappings ever invented, including a Billy the Kid played by Clu Gulager like Kookie of "77 Sunset Strip."

Worst Crime Show: ("Dan Raven" (NBC). Series already has received its cancellation notice, and no wonder. It was a hybrid of "Dragnet," "77 Sunset Strip" and "Stop the Music." It also was badly produced, directed and written. Runners-up are "Michael Shayne" (NBC) and "Surfside 6" (ABC).

Worst Adventure Show: "The Garlund Touch" (CBS). Someone tried to conjure up something in the old "Bulldog Drummond" tradition but it turned into a confused mess. Luckily the star (Charles Quinlivan) has no big name, so he should be able to live this down. Series dies Jan. 20, and Jackie Gleason comes back with a panel show, of all things.

Worst Special: "Rivak the Barbarian: (NBC). Undoubtedly the biggest, most expensiev bomb of all times was dropped on TV last October when Jack Palance & Co. were trapped in this poor man's Ben-Hur. Esther Williams made a run for it with Fernando Lamas in her water epic at Cyrpress Gardens but Rivak was the most.

Worst Drama Special in Series: "The young Juggler" (Ford Startime-NBC). Tony Curtis was a wandering, mercenary juggler in biblical times and there was a great reformation in the lad, and it was all horrible to watch—production-wise, acting-wise and story-wise.

Worst Special Event: "Oscar Night in Hollywood" (NBC). Tony Randall and Betsy Palmer spent a half-hour tripping over camera cables in the Hollywood Brown Derby in this pre-Oscar show last April. It was a shambles from the opening shot, when Randall was bent over with the seat of his pants facing the camera, to the moment when dress designer Edith Head said to gossip columnist Louella Parsons, "Louella, you couldn't look more beautiful."

Worst Quiz or Panel Show: "The Price Is Right" (NBC). Beats out two-time winner "What's My Line?" (CBS) this year because the ridiculous business of guessing the price of a lot of loot is somehow making the contestants more repulsive in their attitudes than Dorothy Kilgallen, Arlene Francis and Bennet Cerf.

Worst Situation Comedy: "Happy" (NBC). This cornball piece of silliness was a summer replacement, and that should have been the end of it, but it returns Jan. 13 to take up part of the hour slack left by the about-to-be defunct "Dan Raven." Ronnie Burns and Yvonne Lime run a motel and have a baby whose thoughts are transmitted to us via "Strange Interlude" asides. To make sure everything is understood, Lloyd Corrigan's "Uncle Charlie" character is there to repeat many of the lines.

Special Mention: There wasn't time to forge a trophy for "Worst Commercial," but had there been, it would have been a toss-up between the Mennen shave cream dandy in which the fellow dives under water to show how Mennen lathers up best and the Remington "wireless" electric shaver commercial in which the guy parachutes from a plane and shaves on the way down.

Incidentally, the Mennen people were caught (by the Federal Trade Commission) mixing toothpaste into the shaving cream.

Well, that about wraps it up from here. Take it away, Chet!

Ex-Ohio Man Faces Arraignment Monday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Byron Baldwin Ashbrook, 38, is scheduled to be arraigned in Justice Court Monday on a murder charge stemming from the Christmas Eve slaying of his wife, Betty, 36. Both came here last summer from Newark, Ohio, to get married.

Police said Ashbrook told them he strangled his wife with his hands because he thought she was running around with men. Officers found her body in the Ashbrook apartment.

Ashbrook, an unemployed cook, was formally charged Thursday but his arraignment was postponed until Monday to allow him time to obtain a lawyer. The court who lives in Newark, had obtained the services of attorney Irving Diamond of New Orleans, La.

Keep In Trim

Calories 'On-The-Rocks' Lead To Corpulence

As the old year slips beyond time's horizon, it's the merry custom to drink a toast to the New Year. And that brings to mind another source of calories ... those furnished in alcoholic beverages.

By Ida Jean Kain

There seems to be some confusion regarding the behavior of these potent calories. As one reader queried logically enough, "How can alcohol calories be fattening ... since they burn right up?"

It's true, alcohol calories are quickly burned up. The body burns them to get rid of them. Nonetheless, alcohol is a potential weight maker. In case this sounds a bit contradictory, here's the explanation:

ALCOHOL AND food behave quite differently—physiologically, too. With food, what you burn is determined by activity. Not so with alcohol ... you burn it off at a steady rate of seven calories per gram. There is no control over the burning, so to speak.

The paradox of alcohol calories is that they cannot be stored as fat, but can add to poundage nonetheless. It might seem that since alcohol calories cannot be stored, they could make no fat. But the catch is that while alcohol calories are burned, the food calories which would otherwise have been used to furnish energy are spared, so they are stored as fat.

Of course, it's well known that a before-dinner cocktail stimulates the appetite ... and calorie caution is generally abandoned. But just to keep the record straight, it's the total calorie score that counts. When alcoholic beverages plus food boosts the total calories beyond one's energy requirements, the result is added weight.

On the calorie score, alcohol counts the same as food — but there the similarity ends. Alcohol is completely devoid of the essential nutrients such as protein, vitamins, and minerals. In short, alcohol cannot be used safely in place of food. The dieter therefore has this choice — a cocktail or dessert ... not both.

THE CALORIE count of mixed drinks varies with the ingredients. An eggnog contains 250 calories for four ounces; a Manhattan, 160 calories; dry martini, 135; the count on cordials, 1 ounce, varies from 75 to 110. Beer, 12 ounce bottle, furnishes 150 calories.

All conviviality calories must be figured in the grand total.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Alcohol Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Chamber Vote Results Listed

The names of 7 men elected to the 21-member Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce were announced Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the board.

They are: William A. Black, Don Eckert, Fred P. Lawrence, Harry Martin, Harold Sneddon, Judge Louis Tobin and Joseph M. Wells Jr. Terms are for three years.

The result of the election was announced to the board by a tellers committee headed by Sidney C. Porter Jr. The committee tabulated the returns from mail balloting which opened on Dec. 14.

The new trustees will assume office at the first 1961 meeting on Jan. 10. At the same time the board will reorganize and elect officers for the new year.

In its action yesterday, the board certified and approved the election result. T. Fred Edwards, president, who presided, commented that there was a gratifyingly high percentage of returns in the balloting.

The stage was set for the annual election Dec. 13 when the board approved a slate of 14 nominees for the 7 posts. Seven terms expired annually on the 21-man board.

Man, 30, Wounded In Attempted Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles Young, 30, was shot and critically wounded by a policeman Thursday after an attempted holdup at the M & M Loan & Clothing Co. on the East Side. Police said Patrolman Nicholas J. Massiello's life was spared when Young's gun misfired as he aimed at the officer's head.

Young was wounded in the chest and the bullet lodged against his spine, paralyzing him from the waist down. Examination showed Young's gun was loaded and the firing pin had struck the bullet.

Lisbon Snow Removal Paid

LISBON — Among bills approved for payment Thursday by Lisbon Council were several totaling $700 for "digging out" of last week's 10-inch snowfall.

The snow removal operation continued almost without a break from Wednesday to Saturday morning. Mechanical equipment and operators were hired from local contractors to assist the street crew.

Mayor Dean Stockman praised Street Commissioner Dick Roberts and his crew for many hours of overtime in near zero cold following the storm.

Snow removal was a big item of village expense this year. The mayor and councilmen recalled similar operations twice last February.

Mayor Stockman read a letter from Probate Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, president of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable, inviting village officials to a Civil War centennial kickoff meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8, at the Carnegie Public Library at East Liverpool.

Clyde B. Pike was seated as a councilman, succeeding Robert Lower, who resigned in September to move to Columbiana. Mayor Stockman appointed Pike to the vacancy Dec. 12.

By HAL HUMPHREY

The 10 Worst On TV In 1960

If the man from Price Waterhouse will hand over the envelopes, I will give you the results of my annual "Ten Worst" TV awards. Choosing the winners for 1960 was especially ticklish, because the competition was exceptionally keen in nearly all categories. And now the envelopes, please!

Worst Host Hal Humphrey

or Emcee: It was a battle to the wire here between Arthur Godfrey and Dick Clark, but Godfrey wins by a snide for his fatuous, patronizing attitude on "Candid Camera" (CBS).

Worst Ham: This is a new category and running ego to ego for honors were Jack Paar and Nikita Khrushchev. Jack Parr gets it for walking out of his show to hold up a principle, then returning after he looked under the principle and saw the price tag. Nikita almost overtook Jack with his shoe-pounding routine on a televised U.N. General Assembly meet.

Worst Western: "Tall Man" (NBC). The producers managed to take a good actor (Barry Sullivan) and drown him in all of the western cliche trappings ever invented, including a Billy the Kid played by Clu Gulager like Kookie of "77 Sunset Strip."

Worst Crime Show: ("Dan Raven" (NBC). Series already has received its cancellation notice, and no wonder. It was a hybrid of "Dragnet," "77 Sunset Strip" and "Stop the Music." It also was badly produced, directed and written. Runners-up are "Michael Shayne" (NBC) and "Surfside 6" (ABC).

Worst Adventure Show: "The Garlund Touch" (CBS). Someone tried to conjure up something in the old "Bulldog Drummond" tradition but it turned into a confused mess. Luckily the star (Charles Quinlivan) has no big name, so he should be able to live this down. Series dies Jan. 20, and Jackie Gleason comes back with a panel show, of all things.

Worst Special: "Rivak the Barbarian: (NBC). Undoubtedly the biggest, most expensiev bomb of all times was dropped on TV last October when Jack Palance & Co. were trapped in this poor man's Ben-Hur. Esther Williams made a run for it with Fernando Lamas in her water epic at Cyrpress Gardens but Rivak was the most.

Worst Drama Special in Series: "The young Juggler" (Ford Startime-NBC). Tony Curtis was a wandering, mercenary juggler in biblical times and there was a great reformation in the lad, and it was all horrible to watch—production-wise, acting-wise and story-wise.

Worst Special Event: "Oscar Night in Hollywood" (NBC). Tony Randall and Betsy Palmer spent a half-hour tripping over camera cables in the Hollywood Brown Derby in this pre-Oscar show last April. It was a shambles from the opening shot, when Randall was bent over with the seat of his pants facing the camera, to the moment when dress designer Edith Head said to gossip columnist Louella Parsons, "Louella, you couldn't look more beautiful."

Worst Quiz or Panel Show: "The Price Is Right" (NBC). Beats out two-time winner "What's My Line?" (CBS) this year because the ridiculous business of guessing the price of a lot of loot is somehow making the contestants more repulsive in their attitudes than Dorothy Kilgallen, Ariene Francis and Bennet Cerf.

Worst Situation Comedy: "Happy" (NBC). This cornball piece of silliness was a summer replacement, and that should have been the end of it, but it returns Jan. 13 to take up part of the hour slack left by the about-to-be defunct "Dan Raven." Ronnie Burns and Yvonne Lime run a motel and have a baby whose thoughts are transmitted to us via "Strange Interlude" asides. To make sure everything is understood, Lloyd Corrigan's "Uncle Charlie" character is there to repeat many of the lines.

Special Mention: There wasn't time to forge a trophy for "Worst Commercial," but had there been, it would have been a toss-up between the Mennen shave cream dandy in which the fellow dives under water to show how Mennen lathers up best and the Remington "wireless" electric shaver commercial in which the guy parachutes from a plane and shaves on the way down.

Incidentally, the Mennen people were caught (by the Federal Trade Commission) mixing toothpaste into the shaving cream.

Endowment Fund Received By CIT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Case Institute of Technology today announced receipt of another $50,000 endowment fund from the First Educational and Charitable Trust of Canton, Ohio.

The income will be used to provide four-year scholarships for one Stark County high school student. The first recipient will be chosen in the 1961-62 academic year, and others will be chosen every fourth year.

This is the third time in three years Case has received such an endowment. The first recipient of the first endowment is Robert L. Lawther, a sophomore studying mathematics. The first recipient of the second endowment is Marvin F. Sawyer, a freshman in electrical engineering.

Next Christmas They'll Check Before Mailing

When only a few cards remained to be sent, Mr. Burroughs opened one. It was signed "Browning Repair and Welding, Wheatland, Wyoming."

Ex-Ohio Man Faces Arraignment Monday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Byron Baldwin Ashbrook, 38, is scheduled to be arraigned in Justice Court Monday on a murder charge stemming from the Christmas Eve slaying of his wife, Betty, 36. Both came here last summer from Newark, Ohio, to get married.

Police said Ashbrook told them he strangled his wife with his hands because he thought she was running around with men. Officers found her body in the Ashbrook apartment.

Ashbrook, an unemployed cook, was formally charged Thursday but his arraignment was postponed until Monday to allow him time to obtain a lawyer. The court who lives in Newark, had obtained the services of attorney Irving Diamond of New Orleans, La.

Calories 'On-The-Rocks' Lead To Corpulence

As the old year slips beyond time's horizon, it's the merry custom to drink a toast to the New Year. And that brings to mind another source of calories ... those furnished in alcoholic beverages.

By Ida Jean Kain

There seems to be some confusion regarding the behavior of these potent calories. As one reader queried logically enough, "How can alcohol calories be fattening ... since they burn right up?"

It's true, alcohol calories are quickly burned up. The body burns them to get rid of them. Nonetheless, alcohol is a potential weight maker. In case this sounds a bit contradictory, here's the explanation:

ALCOHOL AND food behave quite differently—physiologically, too. With food, what you burn is determined by activity. Not so with alcohol ... you burn it off at a steady rate of seven calories per gram. There is no control over the burning, so to speak.

The paradox of alcohol calories is that they cannot be stored as fat, but can add to poundage nonetheless. It might seem that since alcohol calories cannot be stored, they could make no fat. But the catch is that while alcohol calories are burned, the food calories which would otherwise have been used to furnish energy are spared, so they are stored as fat.

Of course, it's well known that a before-dinner cocktail stimulates the appetite ... and calorie caution is generally abandoned. But just to keep the record straight, it's the total calorie score that counts. When alcoholic beverages plus food boosts the total calories beyond one's energy requirements, the result is added weight.

On the calorie score, alcohol counts the same as food — but there the similarity ends. Alcohol is completely devoid of the essential nutrients such as protein, vitamins, and minerals. In short, alcohol cannot be used safely in place of food. The dieter therefore has this choice — a cocktail or dessert ... not both.

THE CALORIE count of mixed drinks varies with the ingredients. An eggnog contains 250 calories for four ounces; a Manhattan, 160 calories; dry martini, 135; the count on cordials, 1 ounce, varies from 75 to 110. Beer, 12 ounce bottle, furnishes 150 calories.

All conviviality calories must be figured in the grand total.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Alcohol Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Chamber Vote Results Listed

The names of 7 men elected to the 21-member Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce were announced Thursday afternoon at a special meeting of the board.

They are: William A. Black, Don Eckert, Fred P. Lawrence, Harry Martin, Harold Sneddon, Judge Louis Tobin and Joseph M. Wells Jr. Terms are for three years.

The result of the election was announced to the board by a tellers committee headed by Sidney C. Porter Jr. The committee tabulated the returns from mail balloting which opened on Dec. 14.

The new trustees will assume office at the first 1961 meeting on Jan. 10. At the same time the board will reorganize and elect officers for the new year.

In its action yesterday, the board certified and approved the election result. T. Fred Edwards, president, who presided, commented that there was a gratifyingly high percentage of returns in the balloting.

The stage was set for the annual election Dec. 13 when the board approved a slate of 14 nominees for the 7 posts. Seven terms expired annually on the 21-man board.

Man, 30, Wounded In Attempted Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles Young, 30, was shot and critically wounded by a policeman Thursday after an attempted holdup at the M & M Loan & Clothing Co. on the East Side. Police said Patrolman Nicholas J. Massiello's life was spared when Young's gun misfired as he aimed at the officer's head.

Young was wounded in the chest and the bullet lodged against his spine, paralyzing him from the waist down. Examination showed Young's gun was loaded and the firing pin had struck the bullet.

Lisbon Snow Removal Paid

LISBON — Among bills approved for payment Thursday by Lisbon Council were several totaling $700 for "digging out" of last week's 10-inch snowfall.

The snow removal operation continued almost without a break from Wednesday to Saturday morning. Mechanical equipment and operators were hired from local contractors to assist the street crew.

Mayor Dean Stockman praised Street Commissioner Dick Roberts and his crew for many hours of overtime in near zero cold following the storm.

Snow removal was a big item of village expense this year. The mayor and councilmen recalled similar operations twice last February.

Mayor Stockman read a letter from Probate Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool, president of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable, inviting village officials to a Civil War centennial kickoff meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 8, at the Carnegie Public Library at East Liverpool.

Clyde B. Pike was seated as a councilman, succeeding Robert Lower, who resigned in September to move to Columbiana. Mayor Stockman appointed Pike to the vacancy Dec. 12.

Average Husband Pretty Blue

It's End Of Another Year

By HAL BOYLE

YOURVILLE, U.S.A. (AP)—It was the end of another year.

As usual Wilbur Peeble, America's most average husband, felt pretty blue. Totting up the year he felt he hadn't done much.

"Lemme see," he said to himself. "My forehead got bigger, but my scalp got smaller. Hair today, gone tomorrow.

"I gained 20 pounds so there is more to me. There is the same amount of free air in the world, but I got to breathe faster to get my share. Fat people have to take deep breaths.

"Twice I told the boss how to improve the firm—so there went the possibility of any raise in pay.

"I had 10 fights with my wife, Trellis Mae, and the record shows at the best one draw and nine losses.

"On the other hand, I did stay out of jail."

Wilbur's eye happened at that moment to fall on a newspaper story listing the major news events of 1960.

"Well, lemme see what I didn't do to confuse history," he told himself.

"I didn't beat Dick Nixon for the presidency, so I don't have to live in the White House.

"I didn't collapse the summit conference.

"I didn't trouble the Congo.

"I didn't wear Fidel Castro's beard.

"I wasn't Nikita Khrushchev, and I didn't take off my shoe and pound it on a desk at the United Nations.

"I didn't fail to orbit into space, because I never set out to.

"I didn't ruin President Eisenhower's trip to Japan. I couldn't. I wasn't even there.

"I wasn't either segregated or integrated in a New Orleans school. At my age disintegration is all I have to worry about. Why don't they call out the police or fly an airborne battalion to protect middle-aged people from disintegration?"

As he reviewed his stern nonparticipation in the history-making events of 1960, Wilbur felt his own sense of personal guilt wash away. In his own mind he began to emerge as a quiet hero, one bent by time but unbroken.

Just then Trellis Mae entered the room and destroyed the rainbow of his reverie.

"Why are you just sitting there staring into space with that self-satisfied smirk on your face?" she demanded. "You could at least get up and take out the garbage—and end 1960 with your first good deed."

Wilbur refused to come down from his new-won cloud of self-approval.

"Let the garbage of our day take care of itself," he said grandly. "I am an innocent bystander—and I choose to remain one."

As his puzzled wife looked on, Wilbur stretched himself out on the sofa for a nap.

"Wake me when it's 1961, Trellis Mae," he said, nuzzling the pillow. "This may be the last year for good sleeping."

Most Wanted Man Slated To Be Arraigned

CLEVELAND (AP) — Herbert Hoover Huffman, 32, of Fayetteville, N. C., who is on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men, was to be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner today on a charge of interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

He is wanted for the murder of Virginia Anderson Edwards, described as his common-law wife, in a Chicago hotel on July 1, 1959. Huffman was arrested by FBI agents Thursday at his job in suburban Valley View. He worked as a loader for a freight company here since August 1959.

Edward E. Hargett, special agent in charge of the FBI here, said Huffman's arrest resulted from a tip by someone who recognized a picture on a "wanted" poster. Fingerprints positively established Huffman's identity, Hargett said. Huffman had been placed on the most wanted list on Dec. 19.

The woman victim was badly beaten and her body was burned with a cigarette and torch made of rolled-up paper, the FBI said. Chicago police reported the woman had left Fayetteville, N. C. by airplane on June 30, 1959 after telling a roommate she had received $100 from an "H. Huffman" in Chicago.

Huffman and the woman checked into the hotel as man and wife, police said. Her body was found the next day.

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — Richard Getz, 37, of Barberton is a lucky man. His car skidded onto railroad tracks at the Center Road crossing Thursday night. He got out and tried to shove the auto loose when a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad freight train came along. Crash!

The car was demolished. Getz? He suffered a cut lip when a car door grazed him as the train hit the auto with a thundering impact.

Boy Wounded Seriously As Revolver Discharges

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A revolver discharged accidentally by Garry Wright, 17, in the basement of his home at nearby Monroe Falls Thursday seriously wounded his friend, Richard Porter, 16.

Monroe Falls police quoted Wright as saying he had loaded his father's revolver to show it to Porter and another youth. Porter is in Akron City Hospital with a chest wound.

Pros Know What They Are Doing . . .

BERNIE ALLEN was not selected in the pro football drafts and the reason why is very simple.

Allen, who gained All-American honorable mention honors at Purdue where he was also his team's most valuable player, is looking ahead to a baseball career, and the pro football men know that.

Allen was in the same boat as Jack Gibbs, the All - American quarterback of unbeaten Mississippi. Other teams would have drafted Gibbs in the first round, but it was known that he intends to enter professional baseball.

The New York Yankees intend to sign Gibbs, a third baseman, after Monday's Sugar Bowl game between Mississippi and Rice.

Paul Brown of Cleveland finally picked up Gibbs in the 10th round. Brown told the Associated Press "maybe he can't hit the curve, it has happened to others."

Rather than risk a draft choice on Allen and not knowing if he will play pro football, the NFL and AFL teams wouldn't gamble.

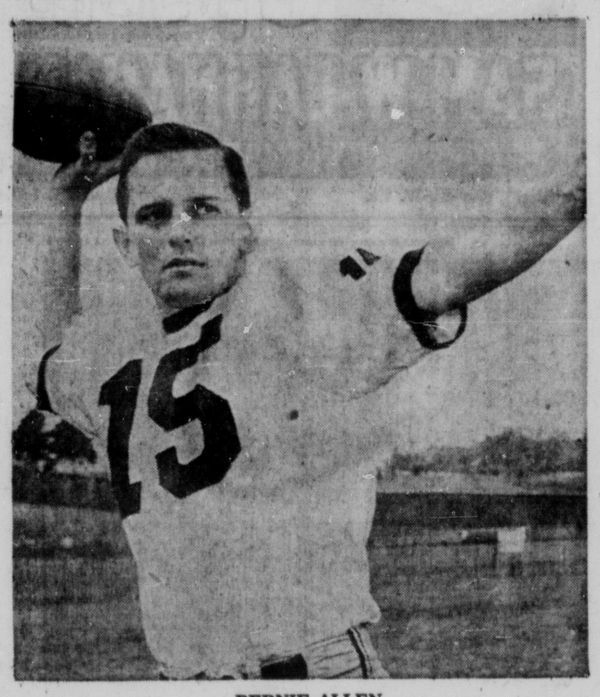
Before a player is drafted, the professional teams check to see if he will play in the pros. If they cannot contact the player, then they take a chance of drafting him or passing him up.

The former East Liverpool three sports star is set for the Blue-Gray game Saturday at Montgomery. Allen will play offense only, running the Blue team from quarterback.

Bernie isn't among strangers. A starting eleven for the Blue team could show 9 out of the 11 from the Big 10 and Allen was known well enough around that league this past football season.

After the Blue-Gray battle, Allen will fly to Pittsburgh and spend a few days in East Liverpool with his parents before returning to Purdue.

Allen can be seen on television Saturday. Channels 6, 7 and 11 will carry the Blue-Gray game.



BERNIE ALLEN
Winds Up For Blue-Gray Game Saturday.

An Annual Affair? . . .

The response shown in attendance at Thursday's Holiday Tournament here was sufficient enough to have the ELHS Athletic Association thinking ahead to next year. It should be an annual affair.

Close to 1,200 fans were on hand for the opening round last night, but it may not hit that total tonight. The East Liverpool-Midland contest was a big draw to local basketball enthusiasts.

Both contests Thursday packed plenty of action, especially in the Massillon-Marietta contest which went right down to the wire before ending in a 54-53 victory for Massillon.

—:—

WE LEARNED from Leo Strang, who led Massillon to another Ohio football championship, that he is one of three remaining candidates for the University of Cincinnati coaching job. Strang sat in on last night's tournament.

The Cincinnati post had four contenders up until Wednesday but Tom Harp, another ex-Massillon coach, was named head football mentor at Cornell.

THE MASSILLON-Marietta game had a little bit of everything in it. Wally Anderson of Massillon ran up and down the floor several times with only one shoe after he had lost one in a battle under the boards. The officials finally called time to allow the Massillon cager to retrieve his shoe.

Groat–One Of Best In 1960 . . .

One of the top athletes in the nation during 1960 will be in town Tuesday when Dick Groat speaks to the East Liverpool Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

However, it won't be the first time the National League's Most Valuable player has appeared here. On two other occasions here he has been dressed in a basketball suit.

Looking back to the Tri-State tournaments, the 1950 all-tourney team lists Groat and he also brought the Pittsburgh Pirates basketball team here last year for an exhibition game with a group of local All-Stars.

The Swissvale (Pa.) dandy was an All-American basketball player at Duke University.

But his greatest achievement in sports came this year as a shortstop for the World Champion Pirates. Groat was with the Pirates during those lean years when the Pittsburgh entry was bouncing around in the cellar.

This year and the last two years have been different, however. A few trades here and there and the Buccos went to the top. And Groat was one of the main reasons for them getting there.

The Pirates' team captain had his best major league season in 1960. Along with the MVP award came the National League batting title on the last day of the season in a head-and-head battle with Norm Larker of Los Angeles.

Groat, who had been hitting well all season long, was at .325 when Lew Burdette hit him on the left wrist with a pitch on Sept. 6. The broken bone put Groat on the bench. He ran and stayed in shape even with the cast on his wrist for he wanted to play and didn't want to win the batting title by default.

Groat was back in action as a pinch runner on Sept. 27 and as a pinch hitter on the 30th. He took over his old shortstop spot in the final two games of the season, getting two singles to keep his average at .325 to win the title.

East Liverpool and Massillon will square off in the finals of the first annual Holiday Basketball Tournament tonight, but victories didn't come easy to either one of the finalists.

After Massillon finished nipping Marietta, 54-53, the Potters were scared almost out of their shoes by Midland which staged a last-ditch rally before bowing to the Blue and White, 50-44.

A crowd of some 1,200 pretty well packed Memorial Auditorium Thursday night for the scholastic doubleheader and first tournament of its kind for East Liverpool.

Midland and Marietta meet tonight in the consolation game beginning at 7 while the championship game will get underway about 8:30.

The East Liverpool Potters proved again last night they could win with their small team and chalked up their second victory in three starts. Midland is now even for its exhibition season at 4-4.

After turning in a sterling first half, East Liverpool claimed what looked like a comfortable 26-16 margin at intermission.

The Potters even increased the difference by one-point, 36-25, after three quarters.

In the fourth quarter, which nearly proved disastrous for ELHS, Hank Kuzma ordered the Leopards into an all-court press and it rattled the Potters.

Early in the fourth quarter East Liverpool upped its lead to 40-27, but Midland's rally was ignited by Carl Anderson's field goal. The Leopards went on to score the next 12 points, and with 4:35 remaining in the game shaved the Potters lead to 40-39.

However, before Midland could score again, Perry Hurst, who gained his first starting assignment last night, scored on a jump shot and Ken Miller cashed in on a pair of fouls to put East Liverpool back on the right road again.

Ken Cunningham, East Liverpool's scoring ace, was high with 18 points, with 14 coming in the first half.

It was Miller's clutch foul shooting in the fourth quarter that made the big difference. In the final period, Miller converted six consecutive fouls after missing three in a row up to that time.

Miller, Cunningham's running mate, was next in the scoring with 12 points but probably was a bigger help with his fine rebounding work.

Tom Clark, another new starter for the Potters, and Miller gave ELHS its best rebounding game so far this season.

Kuzma kept his promise when he said Anderson, Midland's lone veteran this season, wouldn't start Thursday's game, but he was inserted with a minute left in the first period. He then went on to score 17 points which was high for the Leopards.

In the shooting department, East Liverpool took 62 attempts, netting 20 for 32 per cent while Midland had 19 for 65 good for 29 per cent.

The Leopards had a chance to go ahead several times in the fourth quarter but couldn't hit after they had almost pulled even with the Potters.

East Liverpool's outstanding spurt came in the last three minutes of the first half. The Potters scored 10 straight points to go from a 16-16 tie to a 26-16 margin at halftime.

Coach Jim Harris of the Potters went the complete distance with his five original starters. Kuzma shuffled players in and out of his lineup. Midland lost Gary Perkins, a starter, on fouls with 1:10 remaining.

Massillon, before last night, had won only one game in five stars, but became the "Cinderella" favorite before some 1,200 fans.

Marietta, trailing 42-35 starting the fourth quarter, closed with a rush in the last three minutes before time ran out. The Marietta five showed the best record of the tourney teams with a 5-1 mark before last night.

Both squads were in a 12-12 deadlock at the end of the first quarter, but Marietta fell behind, 28-25, at halftime and never was in front again.

Krnach wrecked Marietta early in the third quarter when he scored three straight goals to put Marietta behind, 34-27, a blow from which the favorites never recovered.

With three minutes remaining, Marietta staged a brilliant rally. Massillon was in front, 52-41, when Marietta tallied six consecutive points and cut the margin to 52-47.

Only 20 seconds remained in the game when Jim Farley and Bill Warden converted a pair of fouls each and cut the margin to two points, 53-51.

A foul shot by Bob Herring proved to be the margin of victory because Warden tossed in a long one-hander with five seconds remaining, but the Tigers didn't have enough time.

Warden, who didn't start but was inserted late in the first period added the spark to the Marietta five and finished as high point man with 14.

Jerry Curtis and Farley each added 10 points to the Marietta attack.

The national rankings of college basketball teams likely will be all shook up as a result of holiday week tournament play, but so far top-rated Ohio State, St. Bonaventure and Duke have escaped with nothing worse than minor tremors.

Indiana, ranked No. 4 in the latest national listings by The Associated Press board of experts; St. John's (NY), the No. 7 team, and North Carolina State, No. 10, were among the losers, two of them in real upsets.

Kansas State, which missed a top 10 rating by a couple of notches, emerged as one of the big winners and both Ohio State and St. Bonaventure had some uncertain moments before they came through to the finals of the ECAC Holiday Classic in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Tournament competion ran the gamut from such glamor events as the Holiday Classic, the long-established All College Tournament at Oklahoma City, the Dixie Classic and the Sugar and Gator Bowl tourneys to the Tall Corn and Paul Bunyan tournaments and beyond.

Briefly, here's how the more important ones shaped up:

It was 69-66 in overtime as K-State twice clicked on crucial free throws then stalled successfully. Iowa State took third place with a 67-55 victory over Oklahoma.

Miami, the home team, won its tournament by whipping Holy Cross handily 77-71. Tennessee beat Army 88-71 for third.

Ohio State, with its superb star, Jerry Lucas, slightly under the weather, trailed previously unbeaten St. John's by 13 points at one stage, but the Bucks' balance and shooting skill finally paid off with a 70-65 victory. Unbeaten St. Bonaventure, 15 points ahead in the middle of the second half, barely lasted to beat Utah 89-88.

Indiana's second defeat of the still young season came at the hands of UCLA, 94-72, in the semi-finals of the Los Angeles Classic. Iowa turned back Southern California 70-62 in the other semifinal game.

In semifinal games in the Far West Classic in Portland, Ore., Oregon State defeated Idaho 63-53 after Seattle outlasted Arizona State 87-86.

Tenth-ranked North Carolina State succumbed to Villanova 72-63 in the Dixie Classic.

Equally surprising in another way, Baylor outlasted New York University 58-50 in a defensive struggle to reach the final. They'll meet Wichita 73-63 winner over defending champion Utah State.

Navy's Allen Hughes paced the midshipmen to a 69-62 overtime victory over Florida in the Gator Bowl. Favored Georgia Tech outfinished Georgia to win the other game 54-51.

Pros Know What They Are Doing . . .

BERNIE ALLEN was not selected in the pro football drafts and the reason why is very simple.

Allen, who gained All-American honorable mention honors at Purdue where he was also his team's most valuable player, is looking ahead to a baseball career, and the pro football men know that.

Allen was in the same boat as Jack Gibbs, the All - American quarterback of unbeaten Mississippi. Other teams would have drafted Gibbs in the first round, but it was known that he intends to enter professional baseball.

The New York Yankees intend to sign Gibbs, a third baseman, after Monday's Sugar Bowl game between Mississippi and Rice.

Paul Brown of Cleveland finally picked up Gibbs in the 10th round. Brown told the Associated Press "maybe he can't hit the curve, it has happened to others."

Rather than risk a draft choice on Allen and not knowing if he will play pro football, the NFL and AFL teams wouldn't gamble.

Before a player is drafted, the professional teams check to see if he will play in the pros. If they cannot contact the player, then they take a chance of drafting him or passing him up.

The former East Liverpool three sports star is set for the Blue-Gray game Saturday at Montgomery. Allen will play offense only, running the Blue team from quarterback.

Bernie isn't among strangers. A starting eleven for the Blue team could show 9 out of the 11 from the Big 10 and Allen was known well enough around that league this past football season.

After the Blue-Gray battle, Allen will fly to Pittsburgh and spend a few days in East Liverpool with his parents before returning to Purdue.

Winds Up For Blue-Gray Game Saturday.

An Annual Affair? . . .

The response shown in attendance at Thursday's Holiday Tournament here was sufficient enough to have the ELHS Athletic Association thinking ahead to next year. It should be an annual affair.

Close to 1,200 fans were on hand for the opening round last night, but it may not hit that total tonight. The East Liverpool-Midland contest was a big draw to local basketball enthusiasts.

Both contests Thursday packed plenty of action, especially in the Massillon-Marietta contest which went right down to the wire before ending in a 54-53 victory for Massillon.

—:—

WE LEARNED from Leo Strang, who led Massillon to another Ohio football championship, that he is one of three remaining candidates for the University of Cincinnati coaching job. Strang sat in on last night's tournament.

The Cincinnati post had four contenders up until Wednesday but Tom Harp, another ex-Massillon coach, was named head football mentor at Cornell.

THE MASSILLON-Marietta game had a little bit of everything in it. Wally Anderson of Massillon ran up and down the floor several times with only one shoe after he had lost one in a battle under the boards. The officials finally called time to allow the Massillon cager to retrieve his shoe.

Groat–One Of Best In 1960 . . .

One of the top athletes in the nation during 1960 will be in town Tuesday when Dick Groat speaks to the East Liverpool Rotary Club at its noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

However, it won't be the first time the National League's Most Valuable player has appeared here. On two other occasions here he has been dressed in a basketball suit.

Looking back to the Tri-State tournaments, the 1950 all-tourney team lists Groat and he also brought the Pittsburgh Pirates basketball team here last year for an exhibition game with a group of local All-Stars.

The Swissvale (Pa.) dandy was an All-American basketball player at Duke University.

But his greatest achievement in sports came this year as a shortstop for the World Champion Pirates. Groat was with the Pirates during those lean years when the Pittsburgh entry was bouncing around in the cellar.

This year and the last two years have been different, however. A few trades here and there and the Buccos went to the top. And Groat was one of the main reasons for them getting there.

The Pirates' team captain had his best major league season in 1960. Along with the MVP award came the National League batting title on the last day of the season in a head-and-head battle with Norm Larker of Los Angeles.

Groat, who had been hitting well all season long, was at .325 when Lew Burdette hit him on the left wrist with a pitch on Sept. 6. The broken bone put Groat on the bench. He ran and stayed in shape even with the cast on his wrist for he wanted to play and didn't want to win the batting title by default.

Groat was back in action as a pinch runner on Sept. 27 and as a pinch hitter on the 30th. He took over his old shortstop spot in the final two games of the season, getting two singles to keep his average at .325 to win the title.

The national rankings of college basketball teams likely will be all shook up as a result of holiday week tournament play, but so far top-rated Ohio State, St. Bonaventure and Duke have escaped with nothing worse than minor tremors.

Indiana, ranked No. 4 in the latest national listings by The Associated Press board of experts; St. John's (NY), the No. 7 team, and North Carolina State, No. 10, were among the losers, two of them in real upsets.

Kansas State, which missed a top 10 rating by a couple of notches, emerged as one of the big winners and both Ohio State and St. Bonaventure had some uncertain moments before they came through to the finals of the ECAC Holiday Classic in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Tournament competion ran the gamut from such glamor events as the Holiday Classic, the long-established All College Tournament at Oklahoma City, the Dixie Classic and the Sugar and Gator Bowl tourneys to the Tall Corn and Paul Bunyan tournaments and beyond.

Briefly, here's how the more important ones shaped up:

It was 69-66 in overtime as K-State twice clicked on crucial free throws then stalled successfully. Iowa State took third place with a 67-55 victory over Oklahoma.

Miami, the home team, won its tournament by whipping Holy Cross handily 77-71. Tennessee beat Army 88-71 for third.

Ohio State, with its superb star, Jerry Lucas, slightly under the weather, trailed previously unbeaten St. John's by 13 points at one stage, but the Bucks' balance and shooting skill finally paid off with a 70-65 victory. Unbeaten St. Bonaventure, 15 points ahead in the middle of the second half, barely lasted to beat Utah 89-88.

Indiana's second defeat of the still young season came at the hands of UCLA, 94-72, in the semi-finals of the Los Angeles Classic. Iowa turned back Southern California 70-62 in the other semifinal game.

In semifinal games in the Far West Classic in Portland, Ore., Oregon State defeated Idaho 63-53 after Seattle outlasted Arizona State 87-86.

Tenth-ranked North Carolina State succumbed to Villanova 72-63 in the Dixie Classic.

Equally surprising in another way, Baylor outlasted New York University 58-50 in a defensive struggle to reach the final. They'll meet Wichita 73-63 winner over defending champion Utah State.

Navy's Allen Hughes paced the midshipmen to a 69-62 overtime victory over Florida in the Gator Bowl. Favored Georgia Tech outfinished Georgia to win the other game 54-51.

Those were the days when we had lots of fish and game and game laws were practically non-existent.

Hunting wasn't exactly a sport. Instead our wildlife provided extra food for the table, while the head of the house labored for 50 cents a day.

People my age cannot call themselves "early settlers", but we did come along during the fringe era. You won't find many older people griping about the lack of fish and game who have any understanding of the meaning of the word "progress".

Land use and land misuse can be seen most any place. Stream pollution and habitat destruction is evident all over the U.S., not just in Columbiana County.

YOUNGER PEOPLE read about the "good old days" when squirrels were a nuisance to farming. Our forests supported lots of deer and wild turkeys. There was no industry polluting the Ohio River and no dams to improve navigation. All the tributaries provided good fishing. Otherwise a lot of people would have gone hungry.

I wonder how many people ever have tasted wild turkey? I would never trade one of our pen-reared toms for any turkey that ever lived in the wilds, nor would I trade a T-bone steak for a hunk of venison. On the other hand it is lots of fun going hunting or fishing and more fun when fish are biting or you limit out in pursuit of game.

SPORTSMEN WILL not accept the fact that we do not have good fishing and excellent hunting like the good old days. Neither does the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

If nothing was being done nor anything could not be done to improve the situation there would be no use having a department of fish and game along with a division of forestry, soil erosion, or any other subsidiary of the Department of Natural Resources.

Time has proven that it is a lot easier to destroy our natural resources than to enter on a large scale operation of reclamation.

If one loses his patience, he might as well go outside and join old "Rover" howling at the moon. Progress is here to stay. Destruction will continue and at the same time every effort will be made to protect our wildlife, even if it is a terrific uphill battle.

To the surprise of very few persons, West Virginia University's two-time All-America Jerry West was named for the honor for the second consecutive year.

West swept the voting of the West Virginia Sports Writers Association in just about the same manner he swept the hearts of WVU basketball fans during his three years as a Mountaineer.

Weekend Bowl Games Get Rolling Tonight In Florida

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An estimated 500,000-plus fans will turn out for a dozen assorted bowl and all-star games.

Heading the list as usual is the oldest of them all, the Rose Bowl clash, this time between Minnesota (8-1) of the Big Ten and Washington (9-1) of the Big Five. Minnesota ended the season as the nation's No. 1 team in the annual AP poll and is a 7-point favorite to clip Washington, rated No. 6.

A crowd of 103,000 is expected for the Pasadena battle, largest of the bowl turnouts. The game is to be televised (NBC) starting at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Tonight's Tangerine Bowl has the Citadel (7-2-1) against Tennessee Tech (8-2), with 11,000 fans expected.

In addition to the Rose Bowl, Monday's other attractions are the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, the Orange at Miami, and the Cotton at Dallas.

Mississippi, No. 2, tackles Rice in the Sugar Bowl; Navy, No. 4 opposes Misssouri, No. 5, in the Orange Bowl; and Arkansas, No. 7, meets Duke, No. 10, in the Cotton Bowl.

The Sugar Bowl crowd is expected to hit 81,000, with Mississippi favored by 10 points over Rice (7-3). Missouri (9-1) is 6½ over Navy (9-1) at Miami, where a crowd of 76,000, including President-elect John F. Kennedy, is forecast. The Cotton Bowl turnout is estimated at 65,000, and Arkansas (8-2) is a 7-point choice over Duke (7-3).

That leaves seven other bowls for Saturday, headed by the Gator at Jacksonville, Fla., between Baylor (8-2) and Florida (8-2); and the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco. Florida and Baylor are "pick em" while East rates a 5-point edge over West.

The Gator Bowl crowd is estimated to be 50,000 with television (CBS) at 2:15 p. m. EST. A turnout of 60,000 is looked for at San Francisco, with television (NBC) at 4:50 p. m.

The other Saturday contests:

Utah State (9-1) vs. New Mexico State (10-0) in the El Paso (Tex.) Sun Bowl, 15,000; Blue-Gray College Stars at Montgomery, Ala., 20,000, television (NBC) 2 p. m.; National All-Stars vs. Southwest All-Stars, Copper Bowl, Tempe, Ariz., 23,000; Texas A&I (7-1-1) vs. Arkansas Tech (10-0), Great Southwest Bowl, Grand Prairie, Tex., 9,000; and Prairie View Bowl, Houston, Arkansas A. M. & N. (6-4) vs. Prairie View (9-1), 10,000.

North To Rely On Passing Of Bernie Allen

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—With a pair of star passers eager to work, South Head Coach Paul Dietzel hopes there will be no rain to hamper his aerial attack in Saturday's Blue-Gray football game.

The weather bureau says it will be cloudy, but no rain is predicted.

Kickoff will be at 2 p.m. (EST) as the North seeks to continue its winning ways of the past two years.

The game will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

Dietzel, of Louisiana State, said he will start Georgia passing standout Francis Tarkenton as offensive quarterback, though Wake Forest star Norman Snead will see plenty of action.

The North's starting offensive quarterback will be Bernie Allen, whose passing figured prominently in Purdue's upset of Minnesota this year.

Oscar Nets 36; Royals Lose

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Even the tight race in te Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association and the runaway in the West can't overshadow the scoring duel between Oscar Robertson and Bailey Howell.

Thursday the Big O scored 36 points but his Cincinnati Royals dropped a 128-124 game to the Philadelphia Warriors. That put the Warriors into a first-place tie with idle Boston in the Eastern Division.

Robertson's performance gave him 162 points in his last four games, or an average of 40 plus, and ran his season's total to 1,151.

Howell, like Robertson an All-America in his college playing days, scored 31 points to lead Detroit to a 112-89 victory over the Western Division-leading St. Louis Hawks in Detroit. St. Louis remained 9½ games in front of the Pistons and Royals, tied for second. Howell's performance marked the eighth time in the last 10 games that he had scored more than 30 points.

In the only other activity Thursday night, Elgin Baylor scored 28 points to lead Los Angeles to a 111-95 victory over New York in the opener of the Convention Hall doubleheader here which matched Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the nightcap.

East Counts On Ground Attack In Shrine Game

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— They both operate from the T formation but the East and the West present vastly different ways of doing it when they meet in Saturday's Shrine charity game at Kezar Stadium.

Coach Milt Bruhn's East squad features the run with an all-star set of backs to do it. Coach Bill Barnes' West will also run, but they'll be passing often in this game for the benefit of the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

Barnes has two of collegiate football's ablest passers in his own Bill Kilmer from UCLA and Rich Mayo of Air Force Academy. Plus that, halfback Keith Lincoln of Washington State provides a triple threat.

In the pass-catching department there are ends Marlin McKeever of Southern California and Marv Luster of UCLA plus flanker back Jim Johnson from UCLA and fullback Jerry Hill of Wyoming.

Barnes plans to use the T as the primary offense, but he may use the spread and short punt formations to loosen up the big East defense.

Bruhn indicated plenty of running when he named Tom Matte of Ohio State as the starting quarterback. Halfbacks Tom Mason of Tulane and Herb Adderley of Michigan State run with speed and power while fullback Tom Wiesner of Wisconsin provides the short smashes.

Bruhn's East enters the nationally televised (NBC) game a touchdown favorite at the 1:50 p.m. kickoff before an expected capacity Kezar crowd of 60,000.

Both squade provide a coach's dream with size and speed. The East linemen average 224 pounds and the West 221. Both clubs have outstanding place-kickers with Ed Dyas of Auburn performing for the East and Skip Face of Stanford for the West.

Tennis Star Is Suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles (Chuck) McKinley, 19, the nation's fourth ranked tennis player, is not thinking of turning pro at this time even though he has been suspended by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association for his racket throwing in the Davis Cup interzone finals at Perth, Australia.

The St. Louis, Mo., player, America's chief Davis Cup hope now that Barry Mackay and Earl Buchholz have turned pro, was suspended Thursday by USLTA President George E. Barnes and the organization's Rules Committee. How long the suspension lasts depends on what the Executive Committee does when it meets in New Orleans Feb. 4.

"No one from the USLTA contacted me or gave me any formal notification," said McKinley in St. Louis. "And I don't know what the charges against me are, either. I still hope to play tennis and I intend to keep in shape."

The lengthy statement issued by the USLTA ddn't specify the exact charges against McKinley either. But an association spokesman left no doubt that it was the racket-throwing incident after McKinley and Buchholz lost to the Italians in the doubles at Perth that prompted the suspension.

The decision was made, Barnes said, because McKinley "acted in a way detrimental to the welfare of the game" while in Australia as a member of the U.S. team.

Terry Fox, Detroit Tiger rookie pitcher obtained from Milwaukee, won 21 games for New Iberia, La., in the Evangeline League in 1955.

Ohio U. Captures Canton Tourney

By The Associated Press

Ohio had a couple of college basketball tournaments of its own going among the mass of holiday cage specials across the nation Thursday night.

The Canton invitational came to a tingling climax while the Ohio Methodist event got underway at Berea with two close games.

He is Gary Bolen, who connected for the tie-breaker with only three seconds remaining in the game on a shot from under the basket. The Bobcats gained possession with 1:47 left and began stalling for the final shot. Bolen made the strategy pay off.

He came into the game with 3:47 gone in the second half when Stacy Bunton, Ohio's 6-foot-8 pivotman, fouled out.

For the Bobcats, defending Mid-American Conference kings, it was their sixth triumph in eight starts. Wittenberg, 1960 Ohio Conference champ, suffered its third loss against six victories.

Defending champion Ohio Northern and Baldwin-Wallace, the host school, meet tonight in the finals of the Ohio Methodist College meet. The same two teams met for the championship a year ago when the tourney was inaugurated.

Ohio Northern topped Mount Union, 82-74, and B-W edged Ohio Wesleyan, 80 - 75, in the opening round.

The Polar Bears ripped off six straight points to surge ahead of Mount Union after the game was tied 53 - 53. The Raiders never caught up.

Cincinnati knocked off Dayton 71-61. The Bearcats were down by 10 points, 27-17, with 4½ minutes of the first half remaining, but cut the deficit to 33-31 by intermission and shot into a 42-35 lead over Dayton at the start of the second half. The Flyers never recovered after that, although they twice cut the margin to three points.

The victory gave Cincinnati a 6-3 mark while Dayton now is 6-2.

Toledo's Rockets shot off to a 19-4 lead over Colorado State before the latter scored its first points from the field. And the Rockets stayed ahead to register their sixth straight victory, 86-69, after dropping their opener.

Kefauver Sticks Nose Into Baseball Picture

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said today the enlargement of baseball's major leagues adds to the need for a new federal law to require wide-scale annual player drafts.

Congress will reconvene Tuesday. Kefauver said he will introduce a bill to allow any major league to keep not more than 40 players exempt from being drafted to other clubs in an annual post-season draft.

"The advent of new teams in the American and National leagues makes this all the more needed," Kefauver told a reporter. He added that it would permit weaker clubs to build their power and thus provide better competition.

He said he believes the experiences of the two new American League clubs in Washington and Los Angles in recruiting players for the start of play next spring will make the bill more popular in Congress than it was earlier this year when the Senate shelved it.

Two new National League clubs don't plan to start play until 1962.

Kefauver said he figured the mere fact a bill was introduced, with stronger support behind it, might make established clubs somewhat more liberal in sharing their pool of players with the newcomers without waiting for Congress to act.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Those were the days when we had lots of fish and game and game laws were practically non-existent.

Hunting wasn't exactly a sport. Instead our wildlife provided extra food for the table, while the head of the house labored for 50 cents a day.

People my age cannot call themselves "early settlers", but we did come along during the fringe era. You won't find many older people griping about the lack of fish and game who have any understanding of the meaning of the word "progress".

Land use and land misuse can be seen most any place. Stream pollution and habitat destruction is evident all over the U.S., not just in Columbiana County.

YOUNGER PEOPLE read about the "good old days" when squirrels were a nuisance to farming. Our forests supported lots of deer and wild turkeys. There was no industry polluting the Ohio River and no dams to improve navigation. All the tributaries provided good fishing. Otherwise a lot of people would have gone hungry.

I wonder how many people ever have tasted wild turkey? I would never trade one of our pen-reared toms for any turkey that ever lived in the wilds, nor would I trade a T-bone steak for a hunk of venison. On the other hand it is lots of fun going hunting or fishing and more fun when fish are biting or you limit out in pursuit of game.

SPORTSMEN WILL not accept the fact that we do not have good fishing and excellent hunting like the good old days. Neither does the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

If nothing was being done nor anything could not be done to improve the situation there would be no use having a department of fish and game along with a division of forestry, soil erosion, or any other subsidiary of the Department of Natural Resources.

Time has proven that it is a lot easier to destroy our natural resources than to enter on a large scale operation of reclamation.

If one loses his patience, he might as well go outside and join old "Rover" howling at the moon. Progress is here to stay. Destruction will continue and at the same time every effort will be made to protect our wildlife, even if it is a terrific uphill battle.

West Named W. Va.'s Top Athlete In '60

To the surprise of very few persons, West Virginia University's two-time All-America Jerry West was named for the honor for the second consecutive year.

West swept the voting of the West Virginia Sports Writers Association in just about the same manner he swept the hearts of WVU basketball fans during his three years as a Mountaineer.

Weekend Bowl Games Get Rolling Tonight In Florida

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An estimated 500,000-plus fans will turn out for a dozen assorted bowl and all-star games.

Heading the list as usual is the oldest of them all, the Rose Bowl clash, this time between Minnesota (8-1) of the Big Ten and Washington (9-1) of the Big Five. Minnesota ended the season as the nation's No. 1 team in the annual AP poll and is a 7-point favorite to clip Washington, rated No. 6.

A crowd of 103,000 is expected for the Pasadena battle, largest of the bowl turnouts. The game is to be televised (NBC) starting at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Tonight's Tangerine Bowl has the Citadel (7-2-1) against Tennessee Tech (8-2), with 11,000 fans expected.

In addition to the Rose Bowl, Monday's other attractions are the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans, the Orange at Miami, and the Cotton at Dallas.

Mississippi, No. 2, tackles Rice in the Sugar Bowl; Navy, No. 4, opposes Misssouri, No. 5, in the Orange Bowl; and Arkansas, No. 7, meets Duke, No. 10, in the Cotton Bowl.

The Sugar Bowl crowd is expected to hit 81,000, with Mississippi favored by 10 points over Rice (7-3). Missouri (9-1) is 6½ over Navy (9-1) at Miami, where a crowd of 76,000, including President-elect John F. Kennedy, is forecast. The Cotton Bowl turnout is estimated at 65,000, and Arkansas (8-2) is a 7-point choice over Duke (7-3).

That leaves seven other bowls for Saturday, headed by the Gator at Jacksonville, Fla., between Baylor (8-2) and Florida (8-2); and the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco. Florida and Baylor are "pick em" while East rates a 5-point edge over West.

The Gator Bowl crowd is estimated to be 50,000 with television (CBS) at 2:15 p. m. EST. A turnout of 60,000 is looked for at San Francisco, with television (NBC) at 4:50 p. m.

The other Saturday contests:

Utah State (9-1) vs. New Mexico State (10-0) in the El Paso (Tex.) Sun Bowl, 15,000; Blue-Gray College Stars at Montgomery, Ala., 20,000, television (NBC) 2 p. m.; National All-Stars vs. Southwest All-Stars, Copper Bowl, Tempe, Ariz., 23,000; Texas A&I (7-1-1) vs. Arkansas Tech (10-0), Great Southwest Bowl, Grand Prairie, Tex., 9,000; and Prairie View Bowl, Houston, Arkansas A. M. & N. (6-4) vs. Prairie View (9-1), 10,000.

North To Rely On Passing Of Bernie Allen

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—With a pair of star passers eager to work, South Head Coach Paul Dietzel hopes there will be no rain to hamper his aerial attack in Saturday's Blue-Gray football game.

The weather bureau says it will be cloudy, but no rain is predicted.

Kickoff will be at 2 p.m. (EST) as the North seeks to continue its winning ways of the past two years.

The game will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC).

Dietzel, of Louisiana State, said he will start Georgia passing standout Francis Tarkenton as offensive quarterback, though Wake Forest star Norman Snead will see plenty of action.

The North's starting offensive quarterback will be Bernie Allen, whose passing figured prominently in Purdue's upset of Minnesota this year.

Oscar Nets 36; Royals Lose

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Even the tight race in te Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association and the runaway in the West can't overshadow the scoring duel between Oscar Robertson and Bailey Howell.

Thursday the Big O scored 36 points but his Cincinnati Royals dropped a 128-124 game to the Philadelphia Warriors. That put the Warriors into a first-place tie with idle Boston in the Eastern Division.

Robertson's performance gave him 162 points in his last four games, or an average of 40 plus, and ran his season's total to 1,151.

Howell, like Robertson an All-America in his college playing days, scored 31 points to lead Detroit to a 112-89 victory over the Western Division-leading St. Louis Hawks in Detroit. St. Louis remained 9½ games in front of the Pistons and Royals, tied for second. Howell's performance marked the eighth time in the last 10 games that he had scored more than 30 points.

In the only other activity Thursday night, Elgin Baylor scored 28 points to lead Los Angeles to a 111-95 victory over New York in the opener of the Convention Hall doubleheader here which matched Philadelphia and Cincinnati in the nightcap.

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— They both operate from the T formation but the East and the West present vastly different ways of doing it when they meet in Saturday's Shrine charity game at Kezar Stadium.

Coach Milt Bruhn's East squad features the run with an all-star set of backs to do it. Coach Bill Barnes' West will also run, but they'll be passing often in this game for the benefit of the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

Barnes has two of collegiate football's ablest passers in his own Bill Kilmer from UCLA and Rich Mayo of Air Force Academy. Plus that, halfback Keith Lincoln of Washington State provides a triple threat.

In the pass-catching department there are ends Marlin McKeever of Southern California and Marv Luster of UCLA plus flanker back Jim Johnson from UCLA and fullback Jerry Hill of Wyoming.

Barnes plans to use the T as the primary offense, but he may use the spread and short punt formations to loosen up the big East defense.

Bruhn indicated plenty of running when he named Tom Matte of Ohio State as the starting quarterback. Halfbacks Tom Mason of Tulane and Herb Adderley of Michigan State run with speed and power while fullback Tom Wiesner of Wisconsin provides the short smashes.

Bruhn's East enters the nationally televised (NBC) game a touchdown favorite at the 1:50 p.m. kickoff before an expected capacity Kezar crowd of 60,000.

Both squade provide a coach's dream with size and speed. The East linemen average 224 pounds and the West 221. Both clubs have outstanding place-kickers with Ed Dyas of Auburn performing for the East and Skip Face of Stanford for the West.

Tennis Star Is Suspended

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles (Chuck) McKinley, 19, the nation's fourth ranked tennis player, is not thinking of turning pro at this time even though he has been suspended by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association for his racket throwing in the Davis Cup interzone finals at Perth, Australia.

The St. Louis, Mo., player, America's chief Davis Cup hope now that Barry Mackay and Earl Buchholz have turned pro, was suspended Thursday by USLTA President George E. Barnes and the organization's Rules Committee. How long the suspension lasts depends on what the Executive Committee does when it meets in New Orleans Feb. 4.

"No one from the USLTA contacted me or gave me any formal notification," said McKinley in St. Louis. "And I don't know what the charges against me are, either. I still hope to play tennis and I intend to keep in shape."

The lengthy statement issued by the USLTA ddn't specify the exact charges against McKinley either. But an association spokesman left no doubt that it was the racket-throwing incident after McKinley and Buchholz lost to the Italians in the doubles at Perth that prompted the suspension.

The decision was made, Barnes said, because McKinley "acted in a way detrimental to the welfare of the game" while in Australia as a member of the U.S. team.

Terry Fox, Detroit Tiger rookie pitcher obtained from Milwaukee, won 21 games for New Iberia, La., in the Evangeline League in 1955.

Ohio U. Captures Canton Tourney

By The Associated Press

Ohio had a couple of college basketball tournaments of its own going among the mass of holiday cage specials across the nation Thursday night.

The Canton invitational came to a tingling climax while the Ohio Methodist event got underway at Berea with two close games.

A 6-foot-5 sophomore substitute was the hero of Ohio University's 50-48 triumph over Wittenberg for the canton tournament title.

He is Gary Bolen, who connected for the tie-breaker with only three seconds remaining in the game on a shot from under the basket. The Bobcats gained possession with 1:47 left and began stalling for the final shot. Bolen made the strategy pay off.

He came into the game with 3:47 gone in the second half when Stacy Bunton, Ohio's 6-foot-8 pivotman, fouled out.

For the Bobcats, defending Mid-American Conference kings, it was their sixth triumph in eight starts. Wittenberg, 1960 Ohio Conference champ, suffered its third loss against six victories.

Defending champion Ohio Northern and Baldwin-Wallace, the host school, meet tonight in the finals of the Ohio Methodist College meet. The same two teams met for the championship a year ago when the tourney was inaugurated.

Ohio Northern topped Mount Union, 82-74, and B-W edged Ohio Wesleyan, 80 - 75, in the opening round.

The Polar Bears ripped off six straight points to surge ahead of Mount Union after the game was tied 53 - 53. The Raiders never caught up.

Cincinnati knocked off Dayton 71-61. The Bearcats were down by 10 points, 27-17, with 4½ minutes of the first half remaining, but cut the deficit to 33-31 by intermission and shot into a 42-35 lead over Dayton at the start of the second half. The Flyers never recovered after that, although they twice cut the margin to three points.

The victory gave Cincinnati a 6-3 mark while Dayton now is 6-2.

Toledo's Rockets shot off to a 19-4 lead over Colorado State before the latter scored its first points from the field. And the Rockets stayed ahead to register their sixth straight victory, 86-69, after dropping their opener.

Kefauver Sticks Nose Into Baseball Picture

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said today the enlargement of baseball's major leagues adds to the need for a new federal law to require wide-scale annual player drafts.

Congress will reconvene Tuesday. Kefauver said he will introduce a bill to allow any major league to keep not more than 40 players exempt from being drafted to other clubs in an annual post-season draft.

"The advent of new teams in the American and National leagues makes this all the more needed," Kefauver told a reporter. He added that it would permit weaker clubs to build their power and thus provide better competition.

He said he believes the experiences of the two new American League clubs in Washington and Los Angles in recruiting players for the start of play next spring will make the bill more popular in Congress than it was earlier this year when the Senate shelved it.

Two new National League clubs don't plan to start play until 1962.

Kefauver said he figured the mere fact a bill was introduced, with stronger support behind it, might make established clubs somewhat more liberal in sharing their pool of players with the newcomers without waiting for Congress to act.

Wet, Cloudy Weather Hits Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Wet and cloudy weather prevailed across the broad areas of the country today but no severe storms were reported.

Temperatures moderated in most sections although it was cold again this morning in the northern and central Rockies, with temperatures ranging from zero to 10 above with below zero in the higher valleys. It was -17 in Fraser, Colo.

Snow which fell in much of the east changed to rain in most areas. Snowfalls ranged from one to four inches. But temperatures climbed and the snow changed to rain.

Light rain fell during the night from southern and central Texas through the Gulf states northeastward through the Appalachians and western sections of the Atlantic coast states to the central Atlantic coast and eastern sections of southern New England. Fog was reported in some eastern areas.

Showers sprinkled areas in southern Arizona and New Mexico while snow flurries peppered the upper Great Lakes region. Drizzle and light rain sprayed the Pacific northwest while considerable fog was reported in the northern Pacific coast and northern plateau region.

Temperatures generally were near or above seasonal levels in most areas but a little colder weather was indicated in the Carolinas and eastern Gulf states. A warming trend was in prospect through the central part of the country from eastern sections of the plateau states to the central Atlantic coast.

Condemned Murderess Visited By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle paid a visit to condemned murderess Mrs. Edythe Klumpp in Marysville Reformatory Thursday, as he studied whether to spare her from Ohio's electric chair on Jan. 6.

The governor did not elaborate on the visit, except to say that Mrs. Klumpp seemed emotionally upset during their 45 minute talk and that he thought a second visit would be helpful.

He earlier granted the Cincinnati woman a 30-day stay of execution before deciding whether to change her death sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Klumpp, 42, was convicted of the first-degree murder of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, the estranged wife of William Bergen with whom Mrs. Klumpp had been living.

Mrs. Fannie Reece of Cincinnati, Mrs. Klumpp's mother, plans to confer with the governor in his office at 10 a.m. Saturday to plead for her daughter's life.

1 Killed, 4 Injured In Two-Car Collision

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — One person was killed and four others were injured Thursday in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 40 at Scenery Hill.

Killed was Frank DeBardeleben, 19, of Alexandria, Va.

He was riding in a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Dotty DeBardeleben, 55, who was listed in serious condition at Washington Hospital.

Also in serious condition was Mrs. Margaret Allen Seifert, 42, of Cameron, R. D. 4, W. Va., a passenger in the other car.

Mrs. Seifert's husband, Victor, 42, the driver, and a son, Victor Jr., 9, were treated at the hospital and released.

Killed In Collision

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—John McKinney, 16, of Lima, was killed early today in a two-car collision on U. S. 30-N, 2½ miles west of nearby Beaverdam, the Highway Patrol reported. McKinney was riding in a car driven by Joseph L. Golden, 18, Lima. Another passenger in that car, Judy Blosser, 15, Lima, was injured. Neither Golden nor the other driver, Harold R. Fowler, 45, Rt. 2, Canfield, was hurt, the patrol said.

Racial Tension Mounting Due To Negro Tent City

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Negro tent city, two weeks old today, is acquiring a domestic, lived-in and perhaps even permanent look. And racial tension in Fayette County is mounting because of it.

One of the tent city sharecropper residents, who say they were evicted by white farmers because they registered to vote, was shot and slightly wounded Thursday. Investigation indicated the bullet was fired from a passing car. It hit Early Williams, 25, in the arm as he slept in his tent.

Tent city is located about three miles south of this West Tennessee town, seat of Fayette County. Nine Negro families live in the tents now, including about 50 children.

The Negroes say they can't find jobs. Their spokesmen predict tent city's population may rise to 300 families when sharecropper leases expire the first of the year.

White residents admit there are almost no jobs for Negro sharecroppers in Fayette County now. Last year there were hundreds.

The white farmers say rapid farm merchanization is responsible, along with smaller cotton allotments. And they add that plenty of jobs are available elsewhere.

Dr. John W. Morris of Somerville, a landowner, said he received a telegram from Arkansas seeking 100 sharecropper families. He said it came from J. J. White, president of the Phillips County Farmers Association.

"They don't want to leave the county. They want to stay here and cast their votes and live and work together," said Negro Shep Towles, on whose 200-acre farm the tent city is growing.

John McFerren, Negro grocer and president of the Fayette County Civic and Welfare League, who distributes food and the tents donated by parties he refuses to name, said the Negroes are prepared for a siege. There's been talk of stringing electricity to tent city.

The tents, mostly about 20 by 30 feet, are warm and some now have rugs covering the mud. Wood stoves provide heat, and kerosene lamps give a dim light.

200 Bills Slated For Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Democratic administration will submit to the incoming Republican-controlled legislature an estimated 200 bills—50 of which Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he considers major.

The legislature convenes Monday.

The governor conferred Thursday with legislative leaders of both parties. Their talk concerned procedure for submitting administration bills and ways to assure their consideration.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville, who will be republican majority leader in the Senate, and Rep. Roger Cloud, R - Bellefontaine, who will be house speaker, said the bills should be divided between the two houses instead of having duplicate measures introduced in each house.

DiSalle said he will submit his state budget by mid-January to help speed up proceedings, and expedite things."

The governor plans to deliver his state of the state message to the legislature Jan. 10.

Judge Spurns Rarick's Bid To Delay Vote

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Judge Rabe F. Marsh of U. S. District Court has rejected United Steelworker Donald C. Rarick's motion to delay the union's quadrennial election Feb. 14.

Judge Marsh rejected Rarick's request Thursday after he and his counsel, James Ashton, charged various irregularities in the USW's nominating procedures. The judge said Rarick, leader of an insurgent union element, had not used union appeal machinery.

USW headquarters announced last Friday that Rarick could not run for president against incumbent David J. McDonald because he had not secured the 40 local nominations necessary.

Rarick and Ashton claimed locals did not use secret ballots at nomination meetings, that insufficient notice of the meeting was given, and that many USW members couldn't vote because polls were open only during certain hours.

Judge Marsh said Ashton could file a formal complaint with the court outlining the charges. He also said the case could be taken to the U.S. secretary of labor.

Ashton told newsmen he did not know what action he would take.

Rarick easily won nomination in 1957 and was defeated by slightly less than 2-to-1 majority for the presidency.

Wet, Cloudy Weather Hits Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Wet and cloudy weather prevailed across the broad areas of the country today but no severe storms were reported.

Temperatures moderated in most sections although it was cold again this morning in the northern and central Rockies, with temperatures ranging from zero to 10 above with below zero in the higher valleys. It was -17 in Fraser, Colo.

Snow which fell in much of the east changed to rain in most areas. Snowfalls ranged from one to four inches. But temperatures climbed and the snow changed to rain.

Light rain fell during the night from southern and central Texas through the Gulf states northeastward through the Appalachians and western sections of the Atlantic coast states to the central Atlantic coast and eastern sections of southern New England. Fog was reported in some eastern areas.

Showers sprinkled areas in southern Arizona and New Mexico while snow flurries peppered the upper Great Lakes region. Drizzle and light rain sprayed the Pacific northwest while considerable fog was reported in the northern Pacific coast and northern plateau region.

Temperatures generally were near or above seasonal levels in most areas but a little colder weather was indicated in the Carolinas and eastern Gulf states. A warming trend was in prospect through the central part of the country from eastern sections of the plateau states to the central Atlantic coast.

Condemned Murderess Visited By Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle paid a visit to condemned murderess Mrs. Edythe Klumpp in Marysville Reformatory Thursday, as he studied whether to spare her from Ohio's electric chair on Jan. 6.

The governor did not elaborate on the visit, except to say that Mrs. Klumpp seemed emotionally upset during their 45 minute talk and that he thought a second visit would be helpful.

He earlier granted the Cincinnati woman a 30-day stay of execution before deciding whether to change her death sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Klumpp, 42, was convicted of the first-degree murder of Mrs. Louise Bergen, 32, the estranged wife of William Bergen with whom Mrs. Klumpp had been living.

Mrs. Fannie Reece of Cincinnati, Mrs. Klumpp's mother, plans to confer with the governor in his office at 10 a.m. Saturday to plead for her daughter's life.

1 Killed, 4 Injured In Two-Car Collision

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — One person was killed and four others were injured Thursday in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 40 at Scenery Hill.

Killed was Frank DeBardeleben, 19, of Alexandria, Va.

He was riding in a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Dotty DeBardeleben, 55, who was listed in serious condition at Washington Hospital.

Also in serious condition was Mrs. Margaret Allen Seifert, 42, of Cameron, R. D. 4, W. Va., a passenger in the other car.

Mrs. Seifert's husband, Victor, 42, the driver, and a son, Victor Jr., 9, were treated at the hospital and released.

Killed In Collision

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—John McKinney, 16, of Lima, was killed early today in a two-car collision on U. S. 30-N, 2½ miles west of nearby Beaverdam, the Highway Patrol reported. McKinney was riding in a car driven by Joseph L. Golden, 18, Lima. Another passenger in that car, Judy Blosser, 15, Lima, was injured. Neither Golden nor the other driver, Harold R. Fowler, 45, Rt. 2, Canfield, was hurt, the patrol said.

In Tennessee County

Racial Tension Mounting Due To Negro Tent City

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A Negro tent city, two weeks old today, is acquiring a domestic, lived-in and perhaps even permanent look. And racial tension in Fayette County is mounting because of it.

One of the tent city sharecropper residents, who say they were evicted by white farmers because they registered to vote, was shot and slightly wounded Thursday. Investigation indicated the bullet was fired from a passing car. It hit Early Williams, 25, in the arm as he slept in his tent.

Tent city is located about three miles south of this West Tennessee town, seat of Fayette County. Nine Negro families live in the tents now, including about 50 children.

The Negroes say they can't find jobs. Their spokesmen predict tent city's population may rise to 300 families when sharecropper leases expire the first of the year.

White residents admit there are almost no jobs for Negro sharecroppers in Fayette County now. Last year there were hundreds.

The white farmers say rapid farm merchanization is responsible, along with smaller cotton allotments. And they add that plenty of jobs are available elsewhere.

Dr. John W. Morris of Somerville, a landowner, said he received a telegram from Arkansas seeking 100 sharecropper families. He said it came from J. J. White, president of the Phillips County Farmers Association.

"They don't want to leave the county. They want to stay here and cast their votes and live and work together," said Negro Shep Towles, on whose 200-acre farm the tent city is growing.

John McFerren, Negro grocer and president of the Fayette County Civic and Welfare League, who distributes food and the tents donated by parties he refuses to name, said the Negroes are prepared for a siege. There's been talk of stringing electricity to tent city.

The tents, mostly about 20 by 30 feet, are warm and some now have rugs covering the mud. Wood stoves provide heat, and kerosene lamps give a dim light.

200 Bills Slated For Legislature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Democratic administration will submit to the incoming Republican-controlled legislature an estimated 200 bills—50 of which Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he considers major.

The legislature convenes Monday.

The governor conferred Thursday with legislative leaders of both parties. Their talk concerned procedure for submitting administration bills and ways to assure their consideration.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem of Nelsonville, who will be republican majority leader in the Senate, and Rep. Roger Cloud, R - Bellefontaine, who will be house speaker, said the bills should be divided between the two houses instead of having duplicate measures introduced in each house.

DiSalle said he will submit his state budget by mid-January to help speed up proceedings, and expedite things."

The governor plans to deliver his state of the state message to the legislature Jan. 10.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parent Writes On Reading Problems

Children of the early or middle elementary grades may have difficulty when they move from a school system in which they are taught to read with little or no emphasis on phonics to a school system based on phonics, or vice versa. Under such conditions the parents may do much to help them at home. A New York mother writes of her daughter, eight years old and in the third grade: "She had been taught sight reading in the school she attended previously and had difficulty with her reading from the start. She found it difficult to keep up with her class here, which had been taught phonics, and she didn't have the proper background to catch up with the children in her new class.

"WE HAVE been working on phonics since last spring, with a remedial reading teacher, and at home, too. I feel that she has made fine progress, but I fear much more work is needed. We are continuing to coach her and I would like your 'Home Fun with Phonics' bulletin.

"I have been very impressed with your articles on the importance of good reading training and habits, and I must admit that your attitude helped give me the initiative and incentive to work hard with her and be patient with her.

"Her morale and confidence in herself have improved tremendously since she can see the progress she has made.

"I think what many parents must recognize is that a child who has difficulty with reading, and hence with the other school subjects, develops a defeatist attitude about school and will tend to give up trying to compete with his or her classmates, rather than compete and constantly fail.

"MY DAUGHTER has the attitude that it was hopeless to compete and lost interest in her schoolwork. She therefore became a behavior problem in the classroom and met with her teacher's disapproval, and also ours.

"Now, she has developed a positive attitude about school, and, while it is too early to tell this term, I am sure she will do nicely.

"Parents must learn that, difficult though it is, they must not lose patience with a 'difficult reader' and not let the child develop the attitude that he or she is stupid.

"Praise them for any effort they make to learn, and control your temper, regardless of how 'thick' they seem to be, because our daughter developed an emotional block about her schoolwork that was more difficult to overcome than her reading problem itself."

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" and "Home Fun with Phonics", may be had by sending a self - addrsesed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean soiled marble?

A. Use a paste made of mixing two tablespoons of soda, one tablespoon each of salt and powdered pumice, and cold water. After the spread paste has dried, rub it off with a cloth and wash the marble with water. Repeat this process if the stains are hard to remove.

Q How can I make a pine needle pillow when the Christmas tree is ready to be discarded?

A. Strip the tree of its needles. Then make a pillow top of bright colored material and fill with needles. If the pillow is held over steam at intervals, its fragrance will be renewed.

Q. How can I remedy falling hair?

A. Salt is one good remedy. Rub it thoroughly into the scalp. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair. Pure olive oil rubbed into the scalp at night is also very good.

Jack Sanford led National League pitchers in shutouts last season. He tossed six for the San Francisco Giants.

Parent Writes On Reading Problems

Children of the early or middle elementary grades may have difficulty when they move from a school system in which they are taught to read with little or no emphasis on phonics to a school system based on phonics, or vice versa. Under such conditions the parents may do much to help them at home. A New York mother writes of her daughter, eight years old and in the third grade: "She had been taught sight reading in the school she attended previously and had difficulty with her reading from the start. She found it difficult to keep up with her class here, which had been taught phonics, and she didn't have the proper background to catch up with the children in her new class.

"WE HAVE been working on phonics since last spring, with a remedial reading teacher, and at home, too. I feel that she has made fine progress, but I fear much more work is needed. We are continuing to coach her and I would like your 'Home Fun with Phonics' bulletin.

"I have been very impressed with your articles on the importance of good reading training and habits, and I must admit that your attitude helped give me the initiative and incentive to work hard with her and be patient with her.

"Her morale and confidence in herself have improved tremendously since she can see the progress she has made.

"I think what many parents must recognize is that a child who has difficulty with reading, and hence with the other school subjects, develops a defeatist attitude about school and will tend to give up trying to compete with his or her classmates, rather than compete and constantly fail.

"MY DAUGHTER has the attitude that it was hopeless to compete and lost interest in her schoolwork. She therefore became a behavior problem in the classroom and met with her teacher's disapproval, and also ours.

"Now, she has developed a positive attitude about school, and, while it is too early to tell this term, I am sure she will do nicely.

"Parents must learn that, difficult though it is, they must not lose patience with a 'difficult reader' and not let the child develop the attitude that he or she is stupid.

"Praise them for any effort they make to learn, and control your temper, regardless of how 'thick' they seem to be, because our daughter developed an emotional block about her schoolwork that was more difficult to overcome than her reading problem itself."

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" and "Home Fun with Phonics", may be had by sending a self - addrsesed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Holiday Will Alter Trash Collections

Trash collections will be suspended Monday because of the holiday, so incinerator department crews will make pickups Tuesday on two routes, Supt. James A. McKinnon said today.

Following the same procedure used on Christmas weekend, the crews will cover in one day the routes ordinarily served on Monday and Tuesday. The collection will cover these streets:

Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave., Prineeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St., St. Clair Ave.

Fairview St., Division St., Hague Ave., Shadyside Ave., Church St., Denver St, Edwards Ave., Park Pl., Jethro, W. 8th St., Ridgeway Ave., Fenton St., Moore St., Claiborne St., May St., Florence St., John St., Burford St., Alton St. and California Hollow.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean soiled marble?

A. Use a paste made of mixing two tablespoons of soda, one tablespoon each of salt and powdered pumice, and cold water. After the spread paste has dried, rub it off with a cloth and wash the marble with water. Repeat this process if the stains are hard to remove.

Q How can I make a pine needle pillow when the Christmas tree is ready to be discarded?

A. Strip the tree of its needles. Then make a pillow top of bright colored material and fill with needles. If the pillow is held over steam at intervals, its fragrance will be renewed.

Q. How can I remedy falling hair?

A. Salt is one good remedy. Rub it thoroughly into the scalp. Also add salt to the water when washing the hair. Pure olive oil rubbed into the scalp at night is also very good.

Jack Sanford led National League pitchers in shutouts last season. He tossed six for the San Francisco Giants.

Area Boards Plan Sessions To Reorganize

Boards of Education in Columbiana County and the Tri-State district will meet within the next few days to reorganize for the coming year.

New officers will be elected and yearend business transacted by most.

The Columbiana County Board of Education will be the last to meet—Jan. 21. Along with reorganizing, the board expects a preliminary report from the Ohio University team making a study of the Southern Local and Franklin Local districts.

The East Liverpool Board of Education will reorganize Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. when it will elect a president and vice president.

It also will approve temporary appropriations to carry it through the first three months of the new year and select a meeting date.

Leo C. Lawrence now is president with C. Walter Ashbaugh as vice president. It meets the first and third Mondays of each month.

The Wellsville Board of Education will meet Monday morning at 10. Minor yearend business will be transacted and new officers for the coming year elected. Earl Bake is president and Russell Dysert is vice president. The regular meeting will be Jan. 9.

The Beaver Local Board of Education, headed by Jack Pozenel, will reorganize at a meeting Monday night at 8 at the Public School.

The Southern Local Board will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Salineville High School. J. B. Fergason is president.

The Stanton Local Board of Education is expected to hold its reorganization meeting Monday night at 8 in Stanton Local High School in Irondale. Dr. W. S. Banfield is president.

The Lisbon Board of Education will meet Jan. 10 in the village school quarters.

The Hancock County Board of Education will hold its reorganization meeting Jan. 9 at 8 p. m. in New Cumberland High School.

Robert H. Miller of Weirton will begin a four-year term as a member from Butler District, succeeding Francis W. Newbrough, who served only six months. Dr. W. Dale Williams has served as president for the last two years.

The Southern Beaver County Board of Education will meet Tuesday, instead of Monday, a legal holiday, at 8:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of South Side High School near Hookstown. Harvey Todd, president, will preside.

25th Traffic Fatality

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Thomas E. 4-H News

The Columbiana County 4-H Steer Club elected three adults and three club members to the nine-member county steer committee Thursday at the Lisbon Grange Hall. Fifty persons attended.

Paul Mollenkopf of East Palestine, Paul Crosser of Lisbon and Roy Kridler of Leetonia are the new adult committeemen, joining holdovers, Olen Wallace of Homeworth and William Werner and Chester Roof, both of Salem.

Elected to represent the club on the committee were Ronnie Kampfer of Salineville, Janet Ferguson of Wellsville and Ronnie Sanor of Salem.

Dr. John Liggett, Salem veterinarian, discussed steer management problems and two films, "Beef News Roundup" and "Beef Nutrition," were screened.

Discussions on safety in the home were led by Evelyn Boyd and Marilyn Cheatwood at the meeting of the Golden Needles 4-H Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Falconer of the old Salineville Rd., Wellsville.

Demonstrations were given by Mary Falconer on "You and Some Important Parts of Your Body" and by Jean Serafy and Kay Taggart on "What to do for a Strain and Hiccoughs."

For devotions, Marilyn Bentz used Luke 2:8-20 and Glenda Shenton read a Christmas poem. Sue Serafy led the 4-H and allegiance pledges. Roll call response was "Your Favorite Christmas Present." The club sent a donation to the Christian world overseas program.

For recreation, a Christmas party with gift exchange was held. Lunch was served by Bonnie Brant and committee. The next meeting is Jan. 30 at 7:30 p. m. at the Falconer home.

4 Are Injured In Falls On Ice

Four persons injured in falls on ice were treated at City Hospital Thursday and an elderly man hurt in a fall in a restaurant was admitted. Two persons in other mishaps were treated.

George Griffin, 75, of 229 W. 9th St. was admitted to the hospital after he suffered a laceration above the right eyebrow in a fall from a stool about 9:27 p. m. yesterday in Ann's Restaurant on the Diamond, police said.

Police said Griffin was seated at the counter when he turned around and fell to the floor. He was unable to give an account of the reason for the fall, officers said. An ambulance was summoned to remove him to the hospital.

Mrs. Anne Adamovich of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 was treated this morning at 7:40 for a possible wrist fracture received in a fall on a Midland Heights sidewalk.

Mrs. Pauline Presutti, 1239 Beaver Ave., Midland, was treated for a fracture of the left wrist received in a fall on an icy sidewalk.

Richard Heddleston, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heddleston, 1304 St. Clair Ave., received a cut of a finger on a skate in a fall while ice skating.

Coast Guard Hunts Man Believed Drowned

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Coast Guard resumed a search today for a man who apparently slipped through the ice and into the Cuyahoga River at the foot of West 9th Street.

The man, not identified, was seen walking Thursday by a Coast Guardsman in the lifeboat station at the mouth of the river. Ice is 4 to 5 inches thick near the breakwall, but thins out in areas. The cutter Ojibwa searched for five hours Thursday, but halted when darkness came.

Municipal League To Seek Stronger Rate-Setting Law

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The Utilities Committee of the Ohio Municipal League has decided to fight for a stronger rate-setting law.

The committee also recommended a campaign to show the public what is involved in the complicated business of setting rates controlling the public's gas, electric and telephone bills.

The committee Thursday authorized Ralph S. Locher, Cleveland law director, to set up meetings next Thursday with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and the Utilities Commission of Ohio to attempt to get them to adopt the league's program.

The league represents 512 cities and villages in Ohio. One member said he envisions a 10-year fight before the Ohio legislature can be "shook loose from its horse and buggy thinking on utility rates."

Richard M. Christiansen, Mansfield solicitor, told the committee he believed he gained 7,000 votes in his recent election by making utility rates an issue in his campaign.

"During the campaign," Christiansen said, "I got a letter from the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., which accused me of 'trying to make a public name for myself over the scattered bodies of public utilities.' It was difficult to combat but apparently the voters listened to me and not the CEI."

Bituminous Coal Miners' Pensions Will Be Cut $25

WASHINGTON (AP)—The pensions of retired bituminous coal miners were cut today from $100 to $75 a month, starting with the February payments.

The action was taken by the trustees of the United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund because of reduced income from the 40-cent royalty on each ton of coal produced.

More than 65,600 retired miners are affected. The pensions of anthracite miners previously had been cut from $100 to $50 monthly because of even more depressed conditions in the anthracite industry.

Bituminous coal miners got their notice in today's issue of the UMW Journal, in a front-page letter signed by Josephine Roche, director of the fund.

The reduction will continue "until further notice," the announcement said. Miss Roche said that "at such time in the future that the trust fund income reaches a continuing higher level, consideration will be given to restoring the monthly pension to its former amount."

Critics Split Decision On Two 'Best Pictures'

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York film critics have split their decision on the best picture of the year award. It goes equally to "The Apartment" and to "Sons and Lovers."

Burt Lancaster was voted best actor for "Elmer Gantry," and Deborah Kerr for best actress, for her role in "The Sundowners."

Village In Quebec Both Sad, Mad Over Tragic Fire

NOYAN, Que. (AP)—This tiny Quebec village was both sad and angry today about the fire that killed Mrs. Abel Vosburgh and 11 of her 15 children.

A brother of the dead woman said the family lived in the wood shack built by the father "because no one would rent him a house with all those children."

"Everyone has lost someone," said the Rev. William Sellwood as he went around this village of 500 near the Vermont border spreading the news of Thursday's early morning tragedy.

"In a closely knit community like this, there are very few folk who are not related," he explained.

Pushing out of the ashes of the one-story shack were the frames of the four beds in which the victims were trapped. Six bodies were found in one bed.

Vosburgh was the only survivor of the fire that killed his 43-year-old wife and 11 children 6 months to 19 years old. Two of their other children are married and the other two were away.

4-H News

The Columbiana County 4-H Steer Club elected three adults and three club members to the nine-member county steer committee Thursday at the Lisbon Grange Hall. Fifty persons attended.

Paul Mollenkopf of East Palestine, Paul Crosser of Lisbon and Roy Kridler of Leetonia are the new adult committeemen, joining holdovers, Olen Wallace of Homeworth and William Werner and Chester Roof, both of Salem.

Elected to represent the club on the committee were Ronnie Kampfer of Salineville, Janet Ferguson of Wellsville and Ronnie Sanor of Salem.

An analysis of the 40 steers enrolled shows the average weight at purchase last fall was 413 pounds. The average cost was $28.85 per hundredweight, or about $120 per steer.

The animals will be judged and sold at public auction next August at the County Fair.

Dr. John Liggett, Salem veterinarian, discussed steer management problems and two films, "Beef News Roundup" and "Beef Nutrition," were screened.

Discussions on safety in the home were led by Evelyn Boyd and Marilyn Cheatwood at the meeting of the Golden Needles 4-H Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Falconer of the old Salineville Rd., Wellsville.

Demonstrations were given by Mary Falconer on "You and Some Important Parts of Your Body" and by Jean Serafy and Kay Taggart on "What to do for a Strain and Hiccoughs."

For recreation, a Christmas party with gift exchange was held. Lunch was served by Bonnie Brant and committee. The next meeting is Jan. 30 at 7:30 p. m. at the Falconer home.

Village In Quebec Both Sad, Mad Over Tragic Fire

NOYAN, Que. (AP)—This tiny Quebec village was both sad and angry today about the fire that killed Mrs. Abel Vosburgh and 11 of her 15 children.

A brother of the dead woman said the family lived in the wood shack built by the father "because no one would rent him a house with all those children."

"Everyone has lost someone," said the Rev. William Sellwood as he went around this village of 500 near the Vermont border spreading the news of Thursday's early morning tragedy.

"In a closely knit community like this, there are very few folk who are not related," he explained.

Pushing out of the ashes of the one-story shack were the frames of the four beds in which the victims were trapped. Six bodies were found in one bed.

Vosburgh was the only survivor of the fire that killed his 43-year-old wife and 11 children 6 months to 19 years old. Two of their other children are married and the other two were away.
